PROFITEERS WARNED BY ROOSEVELT

President Prepared to Take Drastic Action in Drought-
Stricken Areas

MAY LOWER DUTY ON CANADIAN HAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP).—President Roosevelt, today, sternly warned "profiteers" and "speculators" that the United States Government would step in if they attempted to take advantage of the drought situation.

Talking to newspapermen, Mr. Roosevelt said he thought existing legislation gave Federal authorities ample power to protect the United States against unwarranted increases in the price of food.

DISCUSS RELIEF

He followed this by summoning to the White House Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace, Harold Ickes, Frances Perkins, and others, to discuss what additional steps are necessary to provide relief for those hardest hit by the dry season.

Within the scope of that party were crop plans for next year and methods to prevent gouging of consumers. It was also stated that hay may be imported from Canada if necessary, and there is a possibility of tariff reduction to accomplish that. Tariff lowering, however, is not expected to go beyond that point because of the emergency.

Mr. Roosevelt said he did not anticipate emergencies beyond those existing; that there was plenty of food, despite depletion of crops in wide areas, but that if a crisis arose, due to the maneuvering of selfish interests, he was prepared to meet it.

STATEMENT IS USED IN DRIVE

Political Testament Left by Late President Inspires
Nazi Press

BERLIN, Aug. 15 (AP).—Four days before the plebiscite on Adolf Hitler's assumption of presidential powers, the German people today were given the political testament of Paul von Hindenburg, which described Hitlerism as "a decisive stride" toward inner national unity.

The document, which was signed by the late Reichspresident, on May 11, 1934, only now was delivered to Hitler, and remained something of a mystery even after it was published. At the time it was signed, questions involving the church, finances and foreign policy were troubling the Third Reich.

SIGNIFICANT SENTENCE
While the inspired press acted upon the statement as proof of the claim made by Hitler's campaign-leaders—that the Chancellor is Von Hindenburg's chosen successor—others regarded the closing sentence which looked into the future as significant.

After praising Hitler and his National Socialist movement for taking a decisive stride "and of the importance toward the goal of leading the German people to inner unity," Von Hindenburg expressed hopes for the future.

ACT OF RECONCILIATION

"I know that much remains to be done," he wrote, "and from the bottom of my heart with the aid of national regeneration and unification may be followed by an act of reconciliation to embrace the whole German Fatherland."

By some neutral observers this was taken to mean Von Hindenburg hoped for reconciliation of the troublesome church situation; perhaps for restoration of the monarchy, or again for a greater effort to achieve international peace than the Nazis so far have put forth.

All three projects are known to have been close to the Reichspresident's heart.

BRITISH AGREEMENTS BROUGHT INCREASED TRADE TO CANADA

Working in Harmony to Better Conditions in Canada

VANCOUVER, Aug. 15 (CP).—Dr. Elmo Marshall, chairman at the public meeting addressed here tonight by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, declared in introducing the speaker, that during the past two weeks, "we have seen a deliberate and wilful attempt by the Liberal press to cause disharmony within the ranks of the Conservative party and its trusted leaders."

"I know whereof I speak," said Dr. Marshall, "because I have, within the past year, frequently spoken to both the Prime Minister and Mr. Stevens. I can tell you that in the endeavors of the Prime Minister to bring prosperity to Canada, he has been backed 100 per cent by the Minister of Trade and Commerce. And in the endeavors of Mr. Stevens to see that the farmer, working man and working women get a fair deal, he is backed 100 per cent by the Prime Minister of Canada."

Argentina Seeks Big Increase in Quota on Wheat

South American Nation Asks Grain Conference to Sanction Exports of 150,000,000 Bushels for Current Year — Efforts to Increase Consumption of Bread Are Disappointing

LONDON, Aug. 15 (CP-AP).—Argentina's demand for an export quota of 150,000,000 bushels of wheat during the current crop year, just started, was understood to have been presented to the International Wheat Conference here, today.

This, and the drawing up of a communique by the closed meeting, recognizing the necessity for introducing more elasticity into the quota system for the current crop year, were highlights of the day's proceedings.

OUTLINE POSITIONS
The speech by Rodolfo Garcia Arias, Argentina's new wheat delegate, included presentation of Argentina's case in the long controversy with the three other big exporters, Canada, Australia and the United States. Various other representatives outlined the attitude of their nations towards the future operation of the 1923 world wheat pact. None of the speeches were made public.

ACREAGE IS REDUCED
Garcia Arias, however, was reliably reported to have given an optimistic report on acreage reduction in the Argentine. He was understood to have charged other big exporters with placing obstacles in the way of the Argentine's efforts to persuade farmers to plant other crops.

Two Lose Lives High in Sierras

NORTH FORK, Calif., Aug. 15 (AP).—The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Rittenbacher, a amateur mountain climber, were found crushed and broken below a glacier-scared peak of the High Sierras today, a radio message received here from a searching party said.

The message received at headquarters of the Sierra National Forest said the couple, who disappeared more than a week ago, had apparently fallen from Mount Ritter, a sharp peak of the wild Minarets country.

Hon. H. H. Stevens Tells of Work Accomplished by Federal Government

CONSERVATIVE PARTY
BEST FOR MASSES

By JAMES RHODES
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 15 (CP).—"The reason I am a Conservative and have been all these years, is because I believe the genius of Conservative political doctrine is in the best interests of the people who live under a democratic system of government," Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, stated tonight in an address to a public meeting attended by about 1,000 persons.

DEMOCRACY NOT WRONG
"Many things in democratic countries are obviously wrong, but that doesn't mean that the principle of democracy is wrong."

"No democracy can achieve its highest purpose unless the individual citizens are alive to their privileges and their duties."

"Democracies, such as the Grecian States, and others, have failed in the past because their peoples failed to appreciate this."

PUBLIC DUTY

"You can't lift the present system out of the mire and replace it with another system, because no system is perfect."

Twelve Killed When Bandits Raid Steamer

TOKIO, Aug. 16 (AP).—A bandit raid on the steamer Yingkow, in which twelve were killed, including one Japanese, was reported today by the Rengo (Japanese) news agency in dispatches from Harbin.

The other victims, said the dispatch, were Manchukuoans.

The raid was accomplished in the Sungari River as the steamer was approaching Harbin.

Hailstorm Causes Heavy Crop Loss In Southern Alberta

Thousands of Acres Laid Waste by Downfall Followed by Torrential Rain—Damage Exceeds $500,000—Many Birds Killed

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Aug. 15 (CP).—Thousands of acres of crops, mostly wheat, were in ruins tonight, destroyed by the most devastating hailstorm to strike Southern Alberta in years. The loss, it was estimated, will be far above the $500,000 mark, with many of the fields unprotected by insurance.

In a sweep ten miles wide and fifty miles long, the storm struck late Tuesday with a deluge of rain, followed by the destructive hail which, in a few minutes, battered down crops ready for the harvest. Today, farmers counted losses which ranged as high as 100 per cent.

From Okotoks through Assiniboia, Nanton, Camrose, and other towns to east of Lethbridge, the hail took its heavy toll, ruining crops that gave promise of yielding more than twenty bushels to the acre.

Labatt Family Ready To Hand Over Money To Kidnapping Gang

Brother of Missing Man Complains Reporters Interfere With Plans

MAKES CONTACT WITH GANGSTERS

TORONTO, Aug. 16 (CP).—Anxious waiting for word from the kidnapers of John S. Labatt, wealthy London, Ont. brewer and sportsman, apparently was rewarded when Hugh Labatt, a brother, was called to the telephone in his hotel room at 1 o'clock this morning. Tired from two sleepless days, Hugh Labatt spoke nervously into the phone to a party believed one of the kidnap gang.

Twice the brother of the abducted man was summoned by the ringing of the phone, and his conversation with police surmising into activity. Officers who had rested half-dressed on hotel beds jumped to their feet and put on their clothes and strapped on their holsters.

POLICE ARE SILENT

Cloaked officers dashed to the detective headquarters in the hotel, refusing all information to newspapermen, about twenty-five of whom lined the corridor in front of Hugh Labatt's room. The first call came at 1 o'clock brought Inspector Gurnett, of the Ontario Provincial Police, into Labatt's room, hurriedly summoned from his bed.

The second call came at 1:35 o'clock, but this time the party at the other end of the line hung up. For almost two days Hugh Labatt has not slept. Tired and weary, he told tonight of his efforts to hand over $150,000 to his brother's abductors, while police are conducting the most frenzied man-hunt Ontario has ever known. He pleaded to be left alone to answer the phone call he awaits from he knows not where.

CANADIAN IS FOUND SLAIN

Former Resident of Ottawa
Is Believed Murdered in Illinois City

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 16 (AP).—William F. Kearns, a native of Ottawa, and lately a resident of Elmhurst, Ill., was found fatally injured in an alley behind an hotel here early today, apparently the victim of an attack.

The thirty-five-year-old Canadian was living when found, but died several hours later in hospital. He was the son of the Assistant Auditor-General for the Canadian Government.

MANY BONES BROKEN

An abrasion on Kearns' face was the only outward mark of violence, but on examination he was found to suffer from a fractured skull, four broken ribs and internal injuries.

As a representative of a Chicago engraving concern, Kearns visited Rockford every month, and was said to have been well known about the city. He had spent the night before his death, police said, in making the rounds of various clubs.

The robbery motive was discounted when cab-drivers reported Kearns' funds were low when the evening was over.

Dr. A. P. Proctor Is Slowly Improving

VANCOUVER, Aug. 15 (CP).—Dr. A. P. Proctor and T. A. Sargood are "slowly improving," Vancouver General Hospital authorities report today. Dr. Proctor, chief medical officer here of the CPR, was allegedly shot by Sargood in his office August 3. Sargood then turned the gun upon himself.

SEVEN SUPERVISORS WILL BE DISMISSED

TORONTO, Aug. 15 (CP).—About seven supervisors, drawing salaries of about $1,000 a year each, will be dismissed from the Fish and Game Department of Ontario, H. C. Nixon stated today in announcing plans for the reorganization of the department.

With the binders standing in the fields, the crops were mowed down. The hail beat across 12,000 acres in the Nanton-Connemara area, with losses estimated today at 40 per cent, while 6,000 acres in the Cayley district suffered loss of from 15 to 100 per cent.

In many places the hail lay on the ground inches deep after the storm passed, and with the torrential rain, fields were turned into miniature ice-covered lakes. Hundreds of birds were killed by the flying hailstones.

Police Protect Soldiers

When Senator Huey Long called out troops and installed them in the vote-registry office in New Orleans, radical elements threatened to attack the soldiers. Mayor T. S. Walmsey, a Long opponent, sent the armed guardians of the law to prevent a clash.

Demands Release Of Russians Held By Manchukuoans

Arrest of Soviet Subjects on Charges of Plotting Against New State and Japan Causes Tense
Situation in the Far East Again—
Rumors of Military Rule

TOKIO, Aug. 16 (AP).—The Acting Soviet Consul-General at Harbin has demanded of Manchukuoan authorities, the release of seventeen Soviet subjects, arrested on charges of plotting against Manchukuo and Japan, said a Rengo (Japanese) dispatch from Harbin, today.

Nikolai Raikid, Acting Soviet Consul-General at Harbin, protested to a Manchukuoan diplomatic agent concerning indignities which, he said, Soviet Consul-General Slavutsky, of Harbin, had suffered at the hands of a Manchukuoan policeman.

He said the incident happened at the station at Bukheda, while Slavutsky was en route to Moscow.

RUMORS OF MARTIAL RULE

MOSCOW, Aug. 15 (AP).—Mass arrests of Russian employees along the Chinese Eastern Railway, gave rise to rumors here, today, that Japanese militarists were preparing to declare martial law and take over the railway.

A dispatch today, from Khabarovsk, said nineteen (Tokio dispatches said seventeen) Russian station chiefs and heads of various departments, had been arrested.

PART OF BROAD PLAN

This action was believed by Russians to be a part of a broadly planned effort to make it appear that Russian employees were responsible for banditry, murders and disorders which have prevailed along the line since January 1.

VANCOUVER WILL HAVE NEW HALL

VANCOUVER, Aug. 15 (CP).—Decision to build a new city hall was reached by City Council, this morning, but questions of site and financing were left for a second special meeting tomorrow.

The motion was carried over the objections of Mayor Louis D. Taylor and Alderman G. C. Miller, chairman of the civic finance committee, both of whom contended it was "bad business."

Alderman A. G. Harvey surprised council by stating approximately $600,000 in cash is available in the bank and an additional $150,000 is due the city from the Provincial Government.

Approval of ratepayers by plebiscite will be necessary before the money can be used for a city hall, it was understood.

DROWNED IN LAKE

NELSON, Aug. 15 (CP).—Thomas J. Broadhurst, twenty-two, of Kimberley, plunged to his death in St. Mary's Lake, Sunday, it was learned here today. Standing up in a rowboat, prepared to make a dive, young Broadhurst collapsed and slid feet first into the lake.

FIRES AGAIN CAUSE ALARM NEAR NELSON

Flames Get Out of Control of Fire Fighters

BURNS TOWARDS BOUNDARY LINE

NELSON, Aug. 15 (CP).—Fanned into fresh activity by a steady breeze which swept the flames through timber and brush made under-dry by a three-day heat wave, the Nelson-Nelway forest fire raged out of control tonight, advancing toward the international boundary.

Efforts of forestry crews proved futile to check the march of the flames, which crossed the fireguard that had held the fire in check for several days, and tonight most of the men had been withdrawn.

NEAR RESIDENCE

Fires on the westerly slope of Grohman Creek and Mount Nelson were stirred to life today, the latter burning to within 200 yards of a Summer home before a crew of fifty men and two pumps succeeded in halting it.

With the exception of the Goat-fell district fire, which kicked over the traces today, the situation in the East Kootenay and boundary was quiet with most of the first evening their way up the slopes and gradually burning themselves out.

A fresh crew was sent to combat the Goatfell fire, which is burning on Little Moyle.

ALBERTA RELIEF DEAL ARRANGED

Agreement Made at Ottawa for Monthly Sums and Aid for Cities

OTTAWA, Aug. 15 (CP).—The Province of Alberta now has before it a statement of what the Dominion Government is prepared to do by way of assistance under the "lump sum" payment plan. Described by Hon. George Howley, of the Alberta Government, as fair, in view of the obligations which the Dominion is called upon to meet, the proposal comprises a monthly grant of $100,000 for direct relief and loans aggregating more than $1,000,000 to Alberta cities and relief projects.

Loans to cities, aggregating $750,000, are divided as follows: Edmonton, $300,000; Calgary, $200,000; Lethbridge, $50,000.

To complete the Jasper Highway, the Dominion will advance $125,000. It will also furnish $150,000 to assist in completion of the Alberta section of the Trans-Canada Highway.

LESS THAN WAS SOUGHT

The three Alberta cities will receive considerably less than they requested under the Dominion proposal. In the case of Edmonton the request was for $1,500,000 of which a million was to be used for public works. Only $500,000 is granted, but no strings are attached to it. Calgary's request for half a million was implemented only to the sum of $200,000. Lethbridge asked for $150,000 and got $50,000.

A further amount of $25,000 which the Government will contribute is earmarked for assisting in the payment of labor costs of a new building being erected at the Ponoka Mental Institution.

LITTLE AMERICA, ANTARCTICA, Aug. 15 (via MacKay Radio-AP).—Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd, today had recovered sufficiently from his touch of bad health to take a stroll in the open air at his advance base, 123 miles south of here.

The admiral walked in a temperature of 61 degrees below zero.

Dr. Thomas C. Postler, second in command of the Byrd expedition, who led the tractor expedition which reached the advance base, reported by radio that he is still uncertain as to when the trip back will start.

superior to the vagaries of those who operate it.

"I go back to Sir John A. Macdonald and his declarations that the first duty of government is the interests of agriculture as well as industry."

"That is what I am fighting for. I do not want to see agriculture and industry opposed, the Prairies against the East. Conservative doctrine is in the best interests of the masses of the country, and that is why I am a Conservative."

DEFINES INFLATION
Mr. Stevens took time out from defence of the administration of the Bennett Government to answer a question sent up to him which asked: "What is the difference in inflation as applied to coinage and the watering of stock as applied to big business?"

"There isn't much difference in their effect on the economic life of the country. There is just as much menace in an over-issue of bonds and stocks in industry as in an over-issue of currency."

"That is the reason I criticize the growing practice of making huge issues of mortgage bonds on industry."

"In the United States prior to the depression there was the most colossal inflation of stock in the history of the world. It was occasioned by certain financial institutions seeing the opportunity to make profit out of an issue of bonds which in many instances were in excess of the assets behind them. Then back of that was preference stock, and back of that common stock. The result was that thousands of industries were in a condition of inflation of security."

R.C. STATESMAN

"Monetary inflation is not so easy to define. It may mean turning of the printing presses. What statesman in British Columbia asked that the Dominion print $400,000,000? That is inflation of the crudest sort."

He cited German post-war inflation and said inflation could be tapered down to the issue of notes against decreased gold coverage. In the past Canada had generally kept a 40 per cent reserve of gold, except during the war and once in 1922 when the then Finance Minister, Hon. J. A. Robb, shipped gold to New York to meet certain obligations. If Canada increased her issue to the extent of a 25 per cent coverage, "We can still issue a great number more dollar bills than the 40,000,000 in the present public works programme."

Another written question submitted to Mr. Stevens from the audience asked why the Government of Canada had taken no action to rehabilitate the silver industry.

WORLD QUESTION
Canada had already taken some action, Mr. Stevens replied, by her participation in the international silver agreement, and at the present time the Minister of Finance was taking off the market some 1,500,000 ounces as agreed to.

Regarding the whole question of the rehabilitation of silver, he had delivered a speech on it two years ago, and had not changed his attitude since.

"I can't make any pronouncement tonight on what Canada will do in the light of what Mr. Roosevelt has done. Any action by any other country will in some measure influence Canada in her policy. What that policy will be I am not prepared or at liberty to say."

WOULD END TRADE
If, however, it were possible for the leading commercial countries of the world to accept silver as a medium for their currency it would be of great benefit to the trade of the world. But such a move would have to be international. Also, inasmuch as two-thirds of the world's population has used and still uses silver as the background of its trade, the rehabilitation of silver would be of great benefit to that portion of the world's population.

Mr. Stevens reviewed the policies and activities of the Bennett Government. When it took power the markets of the world were already closed.

"You hear talk of the law of supply and demand. The law of supply and demand is not functioning so far as trade is concerned in any part of the world that I know of."

EMPIRE FACTS
He dealt at length with the accomplishments of the Imperial Conference agreements, and declared that in large measure as a result of them the volume of Canadian trade was little less than the volume of 1929. And he asked his audience to remember that the Liberals were pledged to cancel those agreements. "Why are your lumber mills busy?" he asked. "They weren't two years ago."

Canada was becoming one of the most important sources of platinum in the world, he said in his citation of increased industry. Canadian manufacturers of silk hosiery, real and artificial, were pre-eminent in the world's silk hosiery industry.

The agreements were not one-sided, and he cited increased imports from Great Britain. A duty had been put on glass to aid an industry in Hamilton, but when that industry raised its price to the consumers, the Prime Minister had ordered that duty removed.

CENTRAL BANK
In the central bank the Prime Minister had achieved what was virtually a public institution, but without the dangers of political control.

He referred to the Debt Adjustment Act, and declared no farmer could afford to pay eight, nine and ten per cent interest on debts.

The loan of $60,000,000 to the Canadian Pacific Railway had been grossly misrepresented. Citing the circumstances in which it was given, he said that the competition of the Canadian National Railway had affected the credit of the Canadian Pacific Railway abroad.

Marketing legislation was designed to meet conditions existing

Hudson's Bay Cruise Is Most Successful Event for Employees

Six-Hour Trip Around Saltspring Island Embodies Entertainment Feature for Holiday Party of Nearly 600 Persons—Singing and Dancing

ANOTHER joyful event in the long list of happy holiday celebrations of the employees of the Hudson's Bay Company, took place yesterday, when the Ss. Princess Charlotte carried nearly 600 members of the staff, and their friends, on a most delightful cruise around Saltspring Island.

Clear weather, a friendly sea, much to the merriment of the gathering. Turning from this interesting item on the programme, the younger holiday folk enjoyed hours of dancing, while others lounged about the sunny decks enjoying the engaging scenery, or went aft to listen to a concert orchestra.

Up the east coast of Vancouver Island the holiday ship steamed and entered Satellite Channel, then headed its way northward through Sanam Narrows to pass Saltspring Island on the right hand side. The return voyage was made down the east coast of Saltspring Island, and the ship docked at the Inner Harbor shortly after 8 p.m.

BUFFET SUPPERS
Buffet suppers were eaten aboard, and the dinner hour was followed by community singing under the leadership of Cyril Warren. This gave way to dancing and competitions, for which twenty-four prizes were distributed.

High praise was given the Beaver Club executive for its efforts in making the day's cruise a complete success. Members of the executive are: A. J. Watson, honorary vice-president; P. V. Sellers, president; Miss W. Horrick, vice-president; L. J. D. Smith, secretary; C. L. Smith, treasurer; Miss B. Shadbolt, T. Wilkinson, G. McAdams, H. Ward and J. Oakman. Arthur Heines was announcer for the day.

TOMBOLA PRIZES
Interest of those aboard was kept at a high pitch throughout the entire trip, as a result of the elaborate programme arranged by the committee in charge. Once around Ten Mile Point, the drawings for the thirty-two tombola prizes of groceries, jewelry, hosiery, stationery, and other necessities were held.

abroad. Among other things it gave power, if necessary, to control import or export of goods.

Inferior cattle had been shipped also, prejudicing the entire Canadian product. It would have been well if the Government had had power then to stop such shipments.

CITY IS DIVIDED OVER MOUNTAIN
Montreal Would Keep Mount Royal Free of Motors to Preserve Its Quietness

MONTREAL (UP).—The only city in the Dominion of Canada which boasts a mountain in its midst is in the middle of a small war about the mountain.

Mount Royal, the rearing landmark from which the metropolis of Canada derives its name, is the bone of contention in an argument raging here as to whether automobiles shall be allowed for the first time in history to scale its summit.

PRESERVE CHARM
The mountain broke into the headlines when Alderman Allan Day, of the Montreal Council, ventured the suggestion that motorists be permitted to wind their way upward to its wooded dells and broad expanses of green overlooking the modern city. An immediate storm of protest broke, and thousands of citizens voiced their determination to preserve the primitive natural charm of Montreal's namesake for future generations to enjoy.

STILL MOTORLESS
One of the few fortresses yet remaining against the advance of the automobile age, Mount Royal has continued to share its picturesque quietness with Bermuda's noted avenues. To date, only pedestrians, bicyclists and the horse-drawn Victorians which are heritage of another age in Montreal are allowed on the mountain.

Five-Alarm Fire At Staten Island
NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP).—Fire destroyed one large building and threatened for a time the fourteen-story plant of the American Burroughs Company, of Mariner Harbor, Staten Island, early today. The cause of the fire and the amount of damage were not determined.

Every fire company of Staten Island responded to the fifth alarm as firemen discovered the building, 300 feet long and 150 feet wide, a mass of flames. Twenty other buildings complete the plant, which manufactures malt syrup.

GOVERNOR GIVES CONVICT PARDON

Lived Quietly for Nine Years After Escaping From Prison—Convicted of Murder

COLUMBIA, S.C., Aug. 15 (AP).—Ben Jones, of Los Angeles, went free today to resume a nine-year trend of life abruptly broken last Fall by the revelation that he was C. D. Cooper, an escaped South Carolina convict.

For the past eleven months he has sat behind bars and relived the deadly routine from which he escaped "over the wall" in 1925, to transform himself into Ben Jones, husband of a devoted wife, a respected citizen and steady provider, 3,000 miles from the scene of a murder he allegedly committed fifteen years ago.

CONVICTED OF INNOCENCE
Spectators who saw Cooper tried and convicted of killing Nick Dulka, a Birmingham, Ala., taxi driver, at Bennettsville in 1921, wrote the governor they felt convinced of his innocence. But a South Carolina jury had adjudged him guilty.

Yesterday, Governor J. C. Blackwood announced he believed the requirements of justice had been met. He commuted the life term to thirteen years and suspended the portion of it during which Cooper was at liberty.

Octogenarian Dies in City
The death occurred at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, on August 14, of Mrs. Margaret Scott, widow of Robert Scott, of 942 Pandora Avenue. She was born near St. Catharines, Ontario, on April 10, 1851, and had been residing in this city on and off for eight years.

The remains are resting at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, where the funeral service will be held tomorrow, at 2 p.m. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Kiwianians Are School Guests
C. W. Lonsdale, principal of Shawmin Lake School, and his staff were hosts, yesterday, to some eighty Victoria Kiwanians, their wives and families, at an informal picnic on the school grounds.

Tea was served and during the afternoon swimming, tennis, softball and other games were enjoyed. Later the party was taken on a tour of inspection of the buildings and grounds.

After dinner, several of the guests enjoyed an impromptu dance before leaving for home.

Three Killed in Electrical Storm
CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (AP).—A terrific electrical storm struck the Chicago area at 5 a.m. today, raging for more than an hour, causing numerous fires and at least three deaths.

The downpour brought 1.6 inches of rain that soaked the unbaked earth, flooded basements and marooned automobiles on the streets where sewers could not cope with the flood.

FUNERAL TOMORROW
The funeral of William Bennett, who passed away last Tuesday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the chapel of the Sands Mortuary, Ltd. The remains will be laid at rest in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Marks Anniversary of National Policy

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD

TODAY is the anniversary of the announcement by Sir John A. Macdonald of the National Policy upon which, in 1878, he swept Canada and brought back into power the Conservative Party in the Dominion. In that election Sir John took the position that to bring about a better trade condition, a policy of protection for manufacturers in the country was necessary, and in a speech delivered in Toronto on August 16, 1878, he announced that if returned to power, he would initiate the National Policy, which promise was faithfully kept by the great statesman whose policy was continued throughout the remainder of his term in office, which ended only with his death.

DUNCAN MAN HEADS NEW ASSOCIATION
NANAIMO, Aug. 15.—Delegates from many sections of Vancouver Island met in the Eagle Hall here this evening and organized an Island association under the name of the Affiliated Fish and Game Association of Vancouver Island, with the following officers:

President, T. Pitt, Duncan; vice-president, R. Monteith, Victoria; secretary-treasurer, T. B. Booth, Nanaimo.

The executive is to consist of two representatives from each affiliated association.

Readers of the London Library, when Mr. Baldwin and Lord Crewe presented them, received a broadsheet of instructions in verse.

One, under the title of this paragraph, ran:

Don't write in the margin, you devil! All pencilled remarks are taboo. For, however much authors may grivel,

We want to read them, and not you!

WOULD EXEMPT DELIVERY BOYS

Vancouver Merchants Explain Reason for Seeking Change in Rulings

VANCOUVER, Aug. 15 (CP).—The executive of the Retail Merchants' Association, Vancouver, in a statement today, endorsed the minimum wage of $12.75 set for youths between eighteen and twenty-one years of age after one year's service, but expressed the view that a special situation existed in regard to those engaged only in delivery work.

The statement said: "Any young men between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one, who, after a year's experience in selling goods to the public, is not profitable to his employer at $12.75 per week, is certainly not fitted for the job or is being exploited by the employer. We have no sympathy with such employers."

REAL CONTRIBUTION
The minimum set by the British Columbia Industrial Relations Board was termed "a real contribution."

With regard to delivery boys, the executive stated that a delivery boy of eighteen to twenty-one cannot produce any more for his employer than a boy of seventeen, as the younger boy will deliver just as efficiently.

The executive is therefore asking that until the Legislature brings in

BIG GAINS IN EXCISE INCOME

Revenue Shows Increase of Nearly Twenty Millions in Four Months

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP).—Dominion revenue from customs and excise during the first four months of the fiscal year was $18,904,075 greater than for the corresponding months last year. The figures were released today by the Department of National Revenue. The total for the period April to July, this year, was $75,275,090, and last year, $56,877,015. There was also an increase of $927,292 in income tax receipts in the same period.

FIGURES FOR JULY
For the month of July alone the increase in customs and excise was $3,114,590 over July, 1933. The revenues for the two months follow:

	July, 1933	July, 1934
Customs	$ 5,194,687	$ 5,900,315
Excise taxes	8,880,136	10,034,709
Excise duties	3,472,010	4,141,078
Sundries	76,170	70,503
Total	17,622,903	20,146,594
Income tax	3,558,543	3,862,667

The excise tax item is largely made up of the sales tax, and the excise duties on spirits and tobacco.

COUNCIL RAPPED BY TRADES BODY

City Board Criticized for Meeting Before Burial of Late Alderman R. T. Williams

Severe criticism of the City Council for holding a meeting before funeral services had been conducted for the late Alderman R. T. Williams, was contained in a resolution passed last night at a meeting of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council in Labor Hall. Delegates W. H. Youhill and Robert Nunn sponsored the motion.

The resolution passed unanimously. In explaining his motion, Mr. Youhill declared, "In all my experience with public bodies, this is the first time I've witnessed such a procedure. I am disgusted that the Council would meet under such conditions."

"In my opinion, Ald. Williams was the best city councillor we had. He couldn't be away at all on any point he was interested in," Mr. Youhill added.

Prior to adopting the resolution, another motion mourning the death of the late alderman, who was a member of the Trades and Labor Council, was passed. It was sponsored by R. D. Lemmox, president, and C. H. Lester, vice-president, and referred to the splendid work Alderman Williams had accomplished in furthering the cause of labor.

The members suspended business for two minutes and stood with bowed heads in silent tribute to the memory of Alderman Williams.

NAME CONTEST IS CLUB'S PROPOSAL

Revelers Disatisfied With Title so Public Competition May Be Instituted

A committee of six, to investigate the feasibility of conducting a public contest to select a new name for the club, was appointed at last night's session of the Revelers in the Cairo Coffee Shop.

The members have been dissatisfied with the name "Revelers" for the past two years and for some time have been considering a change in name. Tentative proposals call for a public contest to be held shortly. A suitable prize will be awarded if the idea is carried out.

B. C. Gillie, S. Whitehead, T. Oustance, Eric E. Peil, Jack Gann and Russell Ard were appointed to investigate the contest proposal.

Reports of the recent regatta at Langford Lake were submitted, showing C. Newbury had retained the swimming cup he won last year. A dance and social for Revelers and their friends will be held at Cordova Bay within the next two weeks, it was announced.

Data and Dates Of Victoria and Vancouver Island

METCHOSIN, near Victoria, is a lovely farming district, on which time has bestowed a mellowness that enriches and is pleasing to travelers.

Unusual are the circumstances which led to the naming of this district.

Nearly 100 years ago the Indians in the district discovered a whale had been stranded on the beach. The news of this wonder spread, and natives for miles came to the scene. Preparations were made for a great feast and for three days and nights meals were prepared from the whale while games and story-telling were indulged in.

Within a week the huge fish, exposed at it was to the sun, began to putrefy. Daily the odor, wafted by the sea breezes to the land, became more unbearable. Other Indians learned of the discomfort of their cousins, and jokingly called the district Metchoshin, meaning "sinking whale."

T. Stevenson were elected a committee to handle the annual golf tournament next month. It was reported that the Vancouver club, sponsored by the Publicity Bureau, is edited and distributed free by the Greyhound Management Company, of Cleveland, to its passengers and prospective passengers.

FIRES AGAIN CAUSE ALARM NEAR NELSON

The flames in California, Idaho and Wyoming.

The worst spot was the Pete King Creek fire in the Selway national forest of Central Idaho, which this week claimed the lives of two C.C.C. workers. The burn has a perimeter of forty-five miles, of which but fifteen miles are under control.

Smoke thwarted use of airplanes in the area. Two other fires on the Selway forest along Rock Creek and on McLennon Butte defied their share of the 4,000 men in the area. Another on Martin Creek was in such difficult country that little information was available.

In California, no word of success with the Trinity forest fire was received. Five hundred men fought it on a three-mile front.

On lofty Teton Pass, fifteen miles west of Jackson Hole, Wyo., weary men held grimly on to the lines established in the Targhee forest in Idaho and the Teton forest across the Idaho line. More than 750 acres of pine timber were burned.

Extensive control of the 5,000-acre fire in the Idaho forest, Southern Idaho, was yet to be reported early tonight.

CHINESE REDS OPEN DRIVE ON REGULARS

HONGKONG, Aug. 15 (CP).—A tense atmosphere was hanging over Foochow today, it was reported, following an attack on Pei Hu by more than 2,000 members of the Red Army.

It was added that the Red Army, having opened a new offensive against the Nationalist troops, had inflicted heavy losses.

MINIMUM WAGE IS CONSIDERED

Trades Council Urges That No Employee Work at Less Than Board Scale

Urging that no employer be allowed to hire any persons in industry as controlled by the Industrial Relations Board at less than the minimum wage for that industry, the Victoria Trades and Labor Council will shortly approach Hon. O. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, it was decided by that organization last night.

It was first suggested that employers be required to curtail the percentage of persons employed at less than the minimum wage, but because members felt "this thing might lead anywhere," it was decided that no percentages be set forth.

Delegates told the meeting that young men, particularly those in stores and mills, were being employed at wages far below the minimum standard. Others who were eligible for the minimum wage were being dismissed by employers and their posts taken by still younger boys, they asserted.

"CHILD LABOR"
"It's coming to where a man, faced with the necessity of caring for a family, has to compete with child labor," declared Delegate W. H. Youhill.

Several of the members advocated that the scale be dropped to a 5 per cent basis. It was further suggested that two delegates interview Hon. H. H. Stevens, Federal Minister of Trade and Commerce, outlining the situation here. No action was taken on this proposal.

A letter will first be sent to Mr. Pearson, and, if the reply is unsatisfactory, a delegation will interview him.

PROPERTY SALE IS UNDER FIRE

Trades and Labor Council Ask Premier Pattullo to Protect Delinquent Taxpayers

A letter asking that consideration be given those residents whose property comes up for tax sale this year will be sent to Premier T. D. Pattullo by the Victoria Trades and Labor Council, that body decided last night.

Charles Chivers introduced the resolution, pointing out that in Prince Rupert, City Commissioner W. J. Alder had been given special government powers to decide upon delinquent taxpayers. Mr. Chivers also said that Mayor L. D. Taylor, of Vancouver, will interview the Government on Friday on this matter.

"Some 9,000 persons in Victoria are affected by this, approximately one-eighth of that number facing the possibility of losing their property this year at the tax sale," he stated.

"When a man pays $3,000 for a home and then has to lose it because he has not paid two or three hundred dollars in taxes, it seems hardly just," Mr. Chivers averred.

SEEKS BIG INCREASE IN QUOTA ON WHEAT

crops by refusing to increase her quota when she sought enlargement last May.

QUOTA EXCEEDED
Argentina exceeded her quota of 110,000 bushels for the crop year ending July 31, covered in the wheat pact, by some 34,000,000 bushels. Other big exporters were under their quotas.

The Argentine delegate was said to have stressed that when the quotas were accepted the Argentine had no expectation of the bumper crop that actually developed.

Argentina, he explained, depends on selling on a quantity, not quality, basis, and therefore firmly opposed the minimum-price scheme which fell through this spring. He also, it is understood, declared the others could easily allow her a bigger quota, as she alone among the big exporters expects a good crop this year.

LAST ONE WEEK
He opposed any revival of the minimum-price scheme.

The conference is still in the preliminary stages of examining statistics and hearing the views of different delegates. The Canadian Press was informed. It will last at least a week.

The communique issued at the close of today's meeting said the delegates were generally agreed that while the small 1934 crop in North America would lead to an easier position as regards the surplus stocks, it must be realized any abandonment of international collaboration to adjust the supply and demand in event of normal yields next year, would lead to an accumulation of new surpluses—a calamity if it is one of the main objectives of the wheat agreement to prevent.

They also agreed, it stated, that it was necessary to introduce greater elasticity into the export quota system in France, where the combination of lowering the quantity of flour extracted from wheat and of denaturing for the livestock feed resulted in considerable increase in consumption.

FRANCE ALONE
Andrew Cairns, of Canada, the permanent secretary, said the committee's attempts to increase world consumption were disappointing, except in France, where the combination of lowering the quantity of flour extracted from wheat and of denaturing for the livestock feed resulted in considerable increase in consumption.

The delegates reported on the working of the agreement in their respective countries, the communique added. The Argentine representative

UNPAID BILLS

There is a difficulty in the restoration of business to normal conditions. Out of the depression grew an unfortunate habit of postponing the payment of bills, not only by those who could not afford to pay, but by many others who set up, as it were, for themselves a privileged position. Many people dislike bills, they are contemptuous of "accounts rendered," and in this attitude they show diminution in their own honor. There are even those who will save up for holidays for themselves and their families and in the task leave bills unpaid. They comfort themselves with the unctuous thought that holidays are necessary to their health and that health is superior to ethical behavior in their monetary relations.

Those who cannot pay bills contracted for necessary services deserve pity; those who can pay and will not deserve nothing but censure. It is the latter who are contributing to delaying the return to normal conditions in the business world and who are incidentally fostering the era of unemployment. There are people who have the money to spare but who regard drawing a cheque as they do drawing a tooth, and postpone the payment of bills, sometimes indefinitely. This means that on occasion their creditors are hard pressed, and there have been cases, and many, where such creditors, because of inability to collect legitimate debts, are forced out of business and added to the ranks of the unemployed.

A vast amount of misery and debt is caused by unpaid bills. People are forced to borrow because debtors ignore their claims. Professional men have to take out mortgages for ordinary household expenses although they are owed large sums in fees by clients who can well afford to pay. A part of the cause which has led to unpaid bills is thoughtlessness. A greater part still is a deliberate intent to take advantage of depressed business conditions and to indulge in a habit into which others are unfortunately forced by the stress of circumstances. Those who can pay their bills and will not are little better than parasites on the body politic.

WORLD SUPREMACY IN THE AIR

The United States is aiming at world supremacy in the air. Plans are now afoot for an enlargement of the American Army Air Corps so that in both military and naval air power there may be superiority over other nations. There has been a Special Aviation Committee of the War Department investigating the situation. In its report it maintains that while "the military airplanes of the United States are superior in performance to those of any other country" there have been inadequate appropriations which have hampered the development of the Army Air Corps.

One recommendation is that the strength of the Army Air Corps should be increased to 2,330 airplanes with a corresponding increase in personnel. The present strength of the corps is less than 1,500 airplanes, so that the expansion aimed at is 60 per cent. Moreover, Government assistance is recommended in building up the aircraft industry as "an adequate aircraft industry is essential to national defence." A plea is made also for a closer relationship between military and commercial aviation. To this end the suggestion is that both military and naval airplanes should be purchased from private manufacturers rather than constructed at Government plants, and that the Government should assist manufacturers in their research work.

LANGUAGE AS CURRENCY

The relation between thought and language is a very intimate one. Attempts have been made to set forth with clarity the nature of this relation. Are we to think of language as the clothing of thought, as if language had been invented to serve as a decent garment, a veil, or as something of the nature of an adornment? This view of the matter, however, brings out not so much the relation which exists between thought and language, but rather the rhetorical devices commonly used to render language more effective in respect of clearness, or force, or elegance, or all three.

Language is often spoken of as a vehicle, as if sentences and words were somehow loaded with meaning and served as carriers and containers by which thoughts might be transferred from one mind to another as freight is carried from place to place in railway cars or ships. A well-known scientist of last century wrote a rather ponderous essay on style, much read in its day, in which the whole argument was built upon the metaphor of language as a vehicle.

Then there is the idea that language grows out of thought and bears much the same relation to it as a bud does to its parent plant, or as a plant does to the soil from which it extracts its living. This statement of the case not only emphasizes the intimate relations between the two, but also throws useful light upon some educational problems and supplies a method of criticism in most forms of fine art. At the moment, however, while on political platforms, in Parliament, over the radio, and in private conversation there is so much talk of trade and barter, of currencies, of the gold standard, of paper money, and of the horrid spectre of inflation, it will not be amiss to say something of language as a medium of change.

Peaceably minded people usually accept one another's statements at their face value. When Jones makes some remark to Smith about evolution, or the Decalogue, or the Monroe Doctrine, or the Pragmatic Sanction, or Magna Charta, Smith naturally takes it for granted that these terms represent tolerably clear ideas in the mind of Jones, and treats them as such. Each word is a sort of paper promise to pay. It is to say, Jones knows exactly what he wishes to say and uses these words as shorthand symbols to represent what would otherwise take a long time to account for in full. Therefore, when Jones uses the word evolution, Smith does not catch him up short and demand that Jones shall explain fully all he means by the word and thus prove that he is really on the gold standard, and can, on demand, redeem with his gold reserves of real thinking every promise to pay which he may have issued in the form of language. Conversation carried on upon that system would be intolerable and would make ordinary human intercourse impossible. The martinet of the law, the mandarin of philosophy, the pundit of theology, the pedants of the cloister, the doctrinaires of the laboratory may indulge in that kind of thing, and may indeed do so with real profit, for there is great need of the gold standard of clear thinking in the deep places of human investigation and study.

Whether our monetary currency is tied to a gold standard or not we should use language with care and see to it that we possess the reality of which our words are but a symbol. An exercise of this kind will reveal a man to himself and make him aware of the extent to which the words he uses are necessarily and justifiably a convenient shorthand substitute for thought. As to the evil of inflation, if this term, when applied to language conceived as a medium, means that doubt has arisen as to the soundness and sufficiency of the intellectual reserves in question, it will be sufficient to refer to the third of Tacitus's Idols, those of the Market Place, of which it has been said:

"The Market Place is intercourse; exchange of thought is made
With words of doubtful meaning, like to spurious coins in trade."

AN OPPORTUNITY

During the course of the last provincial election campaign in this province the Canadian Commonwealth Federation candidates and their platform supporters were very condemnatory of the attitude of the newspapers in not giving their viewpoint equal prominence with that given to the politics of other brands. It will be interesting to learn if the supporters of that party are good enough doctrinaires to do unto others as they would have done for themselves. There is to be a C.C.F. daily newspaper printed in Vancouver. No doubt it will devote equal space to Liberal, Conservative and all other political doctrines, that according to the Socialistic propaganda. If it fails to do this its diatribes against the newspapers of the province will lose all their strength. The C.C.F. accused both the Liberal and Conservative press of lack of impartiality. It will be of interest to note if the Socialistic Party practises what it preaches. As well, it has the opportunity of providing a phenomenon in Socialistic literature by printing a newspaper which is impartial in its news columns in the presentation of political views.

GROWING UP

Never another Summer like the last; The garden's overgrown with hollyhocks, And the shrubs are pushing the fence, The heliotrope has spread into the path, The currants and the grapes are out of bounds; Robins ate the cherries off the tree. There's either too much rain or not enough; Nothing's where it ought to be.

Never another picnic in the woods, Never a hot high noon along the river, Where weeping willows droop and weeds grow high And spiders make the glassy water shiver. The nights are far too dull and all too cool, I take a book and snuggle under cover; Never another Summer like the last; Never another lover.

—Kathryn Ullman, in "Spirit"

Muddled Thinking

Socialism's greatest obstacle remains, as it has always been, muddled thinking. Thus, we are told that the miners' Federation is holding its annual conference at Edinburgh, "wants the coal industry for the nation." But that is nonsense. The coal industry already belongs to the nation. British capital and its wages and profits go into British pockets, British Governments poke paternal fingers into it, and its fortunes are looked up with those of the British people. What the miners' leaders want is that the coal industry shall be run by the Government. They want it run by the Government, not because they think the Government can run it efficiently, but because they are convinced that once it is incorporated in the bureaucracy which will not matter to the coal miners whether it is well and profitably run or not.—London Evening News.

The use of traveling is to regulate imagination by reality, and instead of thinking how things may be to see them as they are.—Dr. Johnson.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Pleasure may perfect us as truly as prayer.—Channing.

People of Great Britain may not be a superior people, but they undoubtedly are a peculiar people. This fact was never more clearly demonstrated than during the Summer season now drawing to its close. While the people of the other nations of Europe have been wrangling and fighting and occasionally killing one another, and the people of America (not excluding Canada) have been discussing politics and economics, the people of Great Britain have been playing games. The first part of the time they are engaged in business, for business still comes first in the British concept of the affairs of life. The result of the affairs of life is that more people have flocked into Britain during the Summer for the purpose of joining in the games the British people play than at any other recorded period in the history of the country. There may be differences of opinion as to whether London is the financial and business centre of the world, but there is no doubt about the fact that London is the capital of the nation which is the play centre of the world.

There seems to be a law of nature that men must either play or fight. There is a law of reason that if there is a surplus of animal energy that must be expended in some way, it is better to waste it in playing than in fighting and killing. If there be an error in the British way, it would be a fine thing for all the nations of the world if the people of all those nations could be converted to the error of the British way. British sports have to some extent become international, but that extent is still too limited to turn the minds of foreign people from the art and practice of criminal war to peaceful pursuits of lawful pleasure.

We can remember a time when the Briton was supreme in most forms of athletic sports. But the Briton had to pay the penalty of teaching the people of other nations how to play games. There came a time when the pupil began to challenge the prowess and the art of the teacher. Then came the war, in which the flower of British manhood was crushed, and for about two decades it seemed as if the bloom never could be restored. The events of the current year have dispelled that fallacy. Time, the sure and certain healer, has restored the virility of British youthfulness, and Britain has demonstrated that in the fields of many sports and play, if her representatives have not demonstrated their supremacy, they have proved that they are second to none.

During the present week two of the British Dominions will be joined in friendly strife for supremacy in one of the oldest and most fascinating of games, cricket. On the historic grounds of The Oval, England and Australia will play the final game which will decide whether the "ashes" shall stay at home or be carried back to a temporary resting-place beneath the great Southern Cross. Whatever the result of that Homeric contest, the hundreds of thousands of spectators who go to see and to cheer will behold a spectacle which cannot be duplicated in any other part of the world, a game which exemplifies the principles which are characteristic of the British people in sports, in business, and even in international politics. That is the spirit of fair play, the spirit which accepts defeat philosophically and greets victory with modesty. The fact to be remembered in the game of cricket played in England is that the result may be determined by the state of the weather and the turn of a coin.

Turning to another realm of sport, during the coming month there will be another contest of the great New York and that elusive and artful dodging trophy, the America Cup. We notice that writers for the newspapers have fallen into the error of calling this emblem of yachting supremacy the America's Cup, but we suppose modern custom sanctifies the term.

The America Cup had been lying in storage for many years and almost forgotten when an English yacht named the Galatea, after sailing round the world, entered the port of New York, and her captain, learning of the existence of the captured and stored trophy, challenged for its possession, and was beaten. A year later another named the Genesta, after few preliminaries, was pitted against an American yacht, and also ran. Then an ambitious Canadian named Captain Cuthbert built a schooner in one of the ports of the Great Lakes, piloted her through the rivers and the canals, and sailed her against a fleet of American craft. The Countess of Dufferin never had a chance of winning.

The New York Yacht Club finally changed the conditions governing contests for the cup. Instead of having to compete against a whole fleet, future challengers were allowed to meet a single opponent. The first yacht specially built in Britain for the purpose of lifting the cup was the Thistle, a Scottish cutter. The Thistle was a flyer before the wind. She crossed the Atlantic entirely under her own sail in thirteen days. This feat aroused great expectations; but the challenger was no good in windward work, and was decisively beaten.

The Scotch failed, and the Irish took up the game. The story of the attempts of Lord Dunraven and of Sir Thomas Lipton need not be repeated. An English yacht with an English captain and crew are now in American waters preparing for the sound of the starting gun. The owner and challenger will raise his own ship. It may be that the wife of the captain will take one of the tricks at the wheel. The race will be the outstanding sports event of the year. If the gallant captain of the Endeavor should win, the people of all the world will join in the cheers given by the people of the United States for the second in command of the ship. But if the challenger should win, the result will be a marine miracle.

WATERWAYS WONDERFUL

Lakes and Rivers of Canada
Appeal Strongly to Australian Visitor

"When Australia gets a good price for its wool and sells a lot of the commodity, everybody in the country benefits," Rev. Ronald George Macintyre, M.A., D.D., O.B.E., C.M.G., stated, aboard the liner Niagara, here, yesterday afternoon. "This has been happening lately, and consequently Australia is getting back on its feet again in a very substantial manner."

Dr. Macintyre, who is a former moderator-general of the Presbyterian Church in Australia, and was Director of Recruiting for New South Wales during the Great War, has been spending a holiday in Canada, visiting all parts. He was greatly impressed by what he saw and is full of enthusiasm concerning Canada.

FUTURE FOR CANADA

He had intended to go to England, he said, but spent his entire holiday time in Canada, and he was not sorry for it. "Canada has a great future, and you will soon begin to realize it, I feel sure. It has many advantages that Australia lacks. Our development must necessarily be slow. Here you are abundantly blessed with wonderful lake and river systems, giving you plenty of waterpower. We have no great lakes 'down under.' These are your chief advantage; while another, and almost equally important, is your geographical position, having two great portals for trade and commerce, one facing east and the other facing west, whereas Australia, on the other hand, is planted in the midst of a large ocean, far from anywhere, a continent larger than Canada. "Don't think I don't appreciate the future greatness of Australia. We are all right. We are 98 per cent British stock, which some people forget, and determined to maintain our 'white Australia' policy. We understand our isolation, but are not worried about the cupid of other nations. Some of our people raise the Japanese bogey; but I think I am safe in saying that the leading men of Australia no more worry about Japan than Japan worries about Australia."

MAY BE LABOR
"We are having an election in Australia shortly, but there are no burning issues. It is possible that the next Government of the Commonwealth will be Labor, but nobody will be down-hearted as a result. We are more or less level-headed at all times, and while a Labor Government might legislate for advanced social measures, such as the nationalization of banking, for instance, there will not be any upsetting tendencies in connection with their policies."

Dr. Macintyre expects to return to Canada at some future time and renew the happy acquaintances he made on his present holiday. While he has retired from active church work, he said they still made use of him in many ways, and would probably continue to do so for some time yet. Although seventy-one, he still has the appearance of a much younger man.

LAI D AT REST

The funeral of Mrs. Alice Watson, whose death took place on August 12, was held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Thomas Keyworth officiating in the presence of many sorrowing friends and relatives, during which the hymn "Lead, Kindly Light," was sung. A solo, "In the Garden," was rendered by Mrs. Thomson. The casket and hearse were covered with many beautiful floral tributes. The following were pallbearers: D. Gillan, Robert Davey, William McGillivray and J. Dennstedt. Interment was made in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

Pay Tribute to Memory Of Alderman Williams

Entire Community Represented at Funeral Service for Pioneer Citizen—Rev. E. F. Church Delivers Eulogy—Interment at Ross Bay

Tribute to a life spent in well-doing in the interests of his fellow-men was paid by Rev. E. F. Church, pastor of Metropolitan United Church, in the eulogy that he gave at the funeral, yesterday afternoon, of Alderman R. T. Williams. The funeral chapel was filled to overflowing with people representative of all classes of the community, including all departments of the city—the mayor and councillors, the school board, the city police and fire departments; also provincial representatives and delegations from the A.O.U.W., the A.P. & A.M., the S.P.C.A., the Victoria Conservative Association, the Kinmen and Native Sons of British Columbia, and the B.C. Historical Society. Scores of beautiful floral tributes surrounded the casket.

The services were conducted by Rev. E. F. Church and Rev. J. H. A. Warr, the former giving the address and the latter reading the prayers. Two hymns were sung: "Lead, Kindly Light" and "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

LIKE A TREE
Choosing for his text part of a verse from Psalms 1, "For he shall be like a tree," Mr. Church couched his tribute to the late Alderman Williams in metaphorical form, showing the lines of resemblance between the deceased and a healthy sturdy tree in the midst of a forest. Alderman Williams' friendliness, his love for his fellowman and the desire which this gave him to contact people, bore some points of resemblance to the tree with wide-spreading branches near its base, reaching out toward the neighboring trees of the forest; while he also resembled a tree in that in the pinnacle of his thought he contacted the sunlight of the spirit.

A GOOD MAN
"We are met to pay our last tribute of respect and love to the memory of a good man, Robert Taylor Williams. He lived a long time here; to very few is it given to span such a sweep of years as he did in his lifetime. For such to be spent with profit and benefit rather than as a burden, one must have lived a clean life with a clean conscience and without inner conflict. We are gathered here to do honor to his memory, to think of him a bit wistfully, then to go on our ways encouraged to plan our lives on the example of his good life," said Mr. Church.

What a man achieved in business or political life was not necessarily a true reflection of the inner man. Mr. Church, from his intimate personal knowledge of Alderman Williams, touched on some of the ambitions and hopes that were cherished by the deceased, visions which he had glimpsed but had not time to bring to pass.

CHURCH ATTENDANCE
An indication of his loyalty of spirit was shown in his lifelong faithful attendance at church services. In this observance he testified to a desire to give the same fidelity of expression in his duty to God as in his duty in public life, while at the same time he enacted another action in the rhythm of a well-ordered and well-balanced routine that helped to secure for him the long years which he attained. So deeply ingrained was this practice of Sabbath attendance at church, that it was one of the first portents of the approaching end when he found himself unable to join the services.

Like the trees, his roots were deeply struck in the soil of British Columbia. A great lover of his fellowman, he was continually, throughout his life, gathering new friendships and adding to his list of anything he had of his memories, which he had passed on to the world in the form of his delightful memoirs. His charm and tactfulness were unalloyed. What visions he had, what plans he made, were for the betterment of mankind in general, especially his fellow-citizens. He loved Victoria and labored incessantly in its behalf, providing a doughty supporter of anything aimed at its interests, as he also proved a doughty opponent of anything that might prove detrimental to its interests.

PRESENT AT FUNERAL

In addition to the Mayor and City Council, there were present at the funeral the city treasurer, the city clerk, city solicitor, and city assessor and staff representatives; members of the school board; a large delegation from the A.O.U.W., the grand lodge being represented by Grand Master F. Landsberg, the grand secretary, T. A. Burgess, and the grand treasurer, C. T. Wrigglesworth; a delegation from A.P. & A.M.; the following representatives of the S.P.C.A., of which Mr. Williams was a charter member—John Harvey, president; A. R. Sherwood, secretary; W. G. Lemm, Mrs. H. G. Walker, and Mrs. M. A. Rathbone; the fire chief, representing the city fire department; the deputy chief of police, representing the city police; Reeve William Crouch, representing Saanich municipality; the Victoria Conservative Association; D. B. Plunkett, Federal member for Victoria; F. J. Sehl, provincial collector; Charles F. Banfield, King's Printer, representing the Provincial Printing Bureau; and representatives of the local printers and binders; G. S. McTavish and C. C. Pemberton, representing the B.C. Historical Society; W. H. Kinman, representing the Native Sons of B.C., the board of cemetery trustees, and several old pioneers, representing unofficially the senior families of the city.

Many joined the cortege to Ross Bay Cemetery, where interment took place in the family plot, the procession being led by the city motorcycle police.

Honorary pallbearers were Mayor David Leeming, Aldermen Andrew McGavin, Dr. J. D. Hunter, and Walter Luney; and active pallbearers were Alderman John Worthington, P. R. Brown, Alex Peden, R. A. C. Dewar, T. W. Hawkins, and James Adam.

Police Look For Owner of Cabin Cruising Launch
VANCOUVER, Aug. 15 (CP).—Police are searching for the owner of a cabin cruiser, said to have been abandoned at the foot of Denman Street a week ago. The only mark of identification on the boat are the initials "KRM," but police believe that it is registered at Victoria.

No attempt was made to secure the cabin door when left at the foot of Denman Street, and no trace of the operator has been found by authorities who questioned persons residing on houseboats in the vicinity.

An Unusual Photograph

CROPS REDUCED IN MANCHURIA
Yield of Staple Farm Products Less Because of Conditions

HSINKING, Manchuria, Aug. 15 (CP).—Due to lack of funds, a shortage of coolies during Spring cultivation, and unfavorable weather following the planting of the crops, Manchuria will experience, this year, a 5 per cent decrease in the yield of staple farm products from last year.

According to figures released by the Department of Industry by the Manchukuo Government the anticipated total farm output of Manchuria will total 16,020,000 metric tons, a decrease of 830,000 metric tons from last year's yield.

CRAB CROPS
The great bulk of the crop is made up of soy beans and Manchurian millet. The wheat crop is expected to total 770,000 metric tons, a decrease of 11 per cent.

Statistics show that in North Manchuria approximately 30 per cent of the arable land under cultivation was not planted this Spring, and the disastrous floods which swept North Manchuria this year inundated 40 per cent of the cultivated lands.

POLICE CHECK FOR FIREARMS

Universal Registration of Small Arms Ultimate Object of New Law

Under Attorney-General Sloan, the Provincial Police are preparing for a province-wide check-up on revolvers and pistols in private hands, as a result of amendments to the Criminal Code made at the last Federal session.

Universal registration of such firearms will follow, on application forms to be made out and mailed to the Provincial Police. Changes affecting vendors and sellers of small arms will go into effect on September 1. Universal registration by citizens owning pistols will follow at a date to be fixed by proclamation. It was explained yesterday by Col. J. H. McMullin, Commissioner of Police.

Under changes in the code, dealers in small arms will have to secure licences to buy or to sell such weapons. In addition, they must report purchases, sales, or repairs, to the authorities.

ALL MUST REGISTER

Carriage by the public of unlicensed weapons will be met by a stiff penalty; and after a date yet to be fixed, possession of any unregistered revolver or pistol in the home, office, store or other premises will be an offence punishable by a fine of $50 or thirty days' imprisonment.

Possession of registered small arms will be allowed for the protection of property, protection of life, or for target practice, the last named only in connection with the operations of a registered gun club.

AIM OF LAW

The aim of the law is to provide an additional means of removing concealable weapons from the hands of unwarranted persons. To do this, however, it will first be necessary to register every revolver or pistol in Canada, together with its owner and other data. Special forms will be printed for the Provincial Police as soon as this part of the law goes into effect.

For more than a year now the Provincial Police have kept a record of small arms, more than 1,000 of which are held by the staffs of banks in British Columbia. The amended code will facilitate the keeping of this record, and finally extend it to all law-abiding persons. After registration is complete, persons found to have un-

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 15 (AP).—Marie Dressler's last will and testament, disposing of her $310,000 estate, had been admitted to probate today, as witnesses to it described her signing of the document while on her death bed.

"She sat up in bed, took the pen in her fingers, and scratched her sprawling signature," testified Alan Bred Walker, the Cobourg, Ont., actress' lifelong friend, whom she named executor of her estate.

"Then she twisted up her face, like she did on the screen, and said, 'Well, that's that!'"

The court documents described the "ugly duckling's" estate as $50,000 in public utility bonds; $50,000 in stocks; $10,000 in cash; a Beverly Hills home worth $50,000, and $50,000 in miscellaneous properties. There were numerous bequests to old friends, and $50,000 to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cox, her faithful negro servants. After all the bequests are deducted the residue will go to her sister, Mrs. Bonita Vanthony, residing in England.

Farewell Reception Takes Unusual Form Of Charming Musical

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bucklin Entertain 400 Guests at Delightful Function at Empress Hotel, Their Three Daughters and Visiting Pianist Giving Programme of Classics

MR. and Mrs. G. A. Bucklin, who are leaving here in about ten days' time for New Zealand, where Mr. Bucklin will take over his duties as Consul-General for the United States, were hosts last evening at a farewell reception, at the Empress, to about 400 of their friends. The affair took the form of an unusually delightful musical, the contributing artists being their three daughters, Velma Bucklin Bassingthwaite, pianist, who is here at the present time from Toronto; Adele Bucklin, violinist; Mary Bucklin, 'cellist, and Summer Prindle, also a pianist.

As they arrived, the guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Bucklin, the latter wearing a charming dress of midnight blue flat-crepe trimmed with ermine, and a corsage bouquet of roses. The musical part of the proceedings began about 9 o'clock, and proved an enchanting form of entertainment, for while the hall was arranged as for a concert there was an atmosphere

The Changeless Cycle

SPRING is gone. Summer is fading. But their return is as inevitable as tomorrow's dawn. Next year they will be back again.

Then it will be the same changeless cycle. . . . Some April showers and burst of May flowers. Some old lawn mowing. Some donning of warm-weather togs. Some craving of new Summer furniture. Some exciting vacation planning. Some hundred and one needs and longings.

Why not provide for such future certainties when the advantages are so much in your favor? Buying in August and September what you are going to need or want in June carries the wisdom of Solomon. Read the advertisements in this newspaper and see. Watch for the end-of-season sales. Compare the values with those of the season's opening. Prices are lower because merchants would rather clear out surplus stocks at bargain prices than carry them over until next season.

So—what'll it be? . . . For next Summer's lawn, a premium-quality mower at an ordinary-quality price. That long-desired rattan suite for the sun porch. Some rustic furniture. Awnings. A new refrigerator at an irresistible price. Day by day, you'll find them all in the advertisements in this newspaper. The raincoat which last Spring seemed a big high. Two or three linen suits at a genuine bargain—to be hung away for next Summer's torrid waves. A money-saving buy of Summer underwear, pajamas, shirts, ties, knickers, sports shoes and stockings.

The Victoria Daily COLONIST

Stripes Exceedingly Popular

Patricia Ellis, Lovely Screen Star, Wears Brown, White, Yellow in Chic Costume

BROWN and white, as you will have noticed, is almost as popular a color combination as navy and white, and both supersede black and white—which, however, is perennially popular. Patricia Ellis, lovely screen star, rapidly is coming to be known as the study book, after which a beautiful solo, "Teach Me to Pray," was sung by Mrs. Garnham. The president introduced Miss Johnston, of Vancouver, and Miss Martin, matron of the Oriental Home in Victoria, who will leave shortly for her old home in Ontario after twenty-nine years of service. Miss Martin gave an outline of her life during the many years in mission work among the Orientals in this city, having worked with six Japanese, six Chinese and twenty-five United Church pastors. Miss Martin expressed deep appreciation for all the help she had received from the different branches of W.M.S. Miss Ellis Jones sang "Rest and Peace," after which the hymn, "Jesus Calls Us Over the Tumult," was sung and the benediction pronounced by Mrs. Allison. Tea was served by the hostess, and a social time enjoyed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Smith, when Mrs. Hoy and Miss Barker will arrange the programme.

Centennial W.M.S. The August meeting of the Centennial Auxiliary to the Women's Missionary Society was held on Monday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Rogers, 2180 Beach Drive. Mrs. Rogers, first vice-president, was in charge. Reports by the secretaries of the work done during July were received, and the treasurer's report was encouraging. The special subject for the meeting was "Temperance." The Scripture lesson was given by Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Harris. Mrs. Wilkinson, Presbyterian devotionary secretary, then gave an interesting address on the world's international W.C.T.U. convention, held in Stockholm, Sweden, recently. At this convention, 1,000 delegates from many countries of the world were present. The meeting was brought to a close with the Mispah benediction. Refreshments were served, and a social half hour was enjoyed.

Garden City W.M.S. The monthly meeting of the Garden City United Church was held recently at the home of Mrs. E. B. Glass, 4141 Gladstone Avenue. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Perry, who also led in the devotional exercises, this being followed by the roll call and minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Reid. The devotionary leaflet was read by Mrs. Raynor, and an inspiring talk was given by Mrs. Perry. "Offering Ourselves to God." A short talk on Christian stewardship was given by Mrs. Rogers, while heralds from Japan, India and Africa were read by members. During the meeting, Mrs. W. F. Brown sang a beautiful solo. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Gardiner and a short social time enjoyed.

Gorge W.M.S. The Gorge and Erskine Auxiliary, W.M.S., met in Erskine Church on Tuesday. The president asked that monies due for the budget deficit fund, be paid as soon as possible. Mrs. W. Sanders gave an interesting account of the mission fields which are under the direction of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. The next auxiliary meeting will be held at the new home of Rev. T. H. and Mrs. McAllister, Qu'Appelle Street, on September 11, and will be a birthday anniversary meeting, this year being the seventieth anniversary of the W.M.S. Friends will be heartily welcome.

L.O.B.A. Meeting The regular meeting of the Queen of the Island Lodge, L.O.B.A., was held in the Orange Hall, when it was arranged to have a card game on August 22 in place of the meeting, to commence at 8:30 p.m. All members of the drill team are requested to be at the hall for practice at 2 o'clock today. Refreshments will be served after the cards.

Card Party Planned The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Royal Society of St. George, will hold a bridge party at the Y.W.C.A., Blanshard Street, on Wednesday, August 22, at 8 o'clock. Refreshments will be served and tables for whist will also be included.

Exorcism is the act of conjuring evil spirits, in the name of God, to depart out of the person possessed.

Mrs. J. Hart Lends Home For Party

Members of the Altar Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, under the convenship of the president, Mrs. W. Baines, held a successful bridge and garden party at the home of Mrs. John Hart on Fairfield Road, yesterday afternoon. Masses of late Summer flowers, gladioli, predominating, were used most effectively in the decorating of the rooms. The prettily appointed tea table, covered with a lace cloth, was centred with a low silver bowl of mauve stocks, pale pink carnations, rose verbenas, and maidenhair fern, and was presided over by Mrs. Murray and Mrs. Arthur Oates. Miss Kate Parker and Miss Mary Hughes assisted in serving.

The guests found many attractive wares at the home cooking and candy stalls, which were soon disposed of. Miss Gloria Wilson and Miss Molly Millon had many customers at their "games of chance," and Mrs. Palmer told fortunes by tea cup reading.

The first prize for bridge was won by Mrs. E. M. Smith, and second prize went to Mrs. E. Morrison (Rossland). Other bridge players were Mrs. G. H. Scarrett, Mrs. H. J. Geake, Miss E. O'Brien, Mrs. D. McLeod, Mrs. E. M. McNaughton, Miss Pernell, Mrs. George Hartnell, Mrs. Alex. T. Stewart, Mrs. Thomas Brown, Mrs. Gordon Evans, Mrs. William B. Power (Seattle), Mrs. Harry C. Morris, Mrs. Charles Fagan, Mrs. Montell, Mrs. H. F. Crowe, Mrs. Alec McDermott, Mrs. W. A. Gallier, Mrs. Duncan Ross, Miss B. Campbell, Mrs. Gertrude Campbell, Miss Lily Delahanty, Miss Lucille Kinsinger, Mrs. W. McManus, Miss H. O'Brien, Mrs. D. E. Whitaker and Miss de Trafford.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS (UP).—At an exclusive musical given recently by the Count and Countess de Chambrun (she was Clara Longworth before her marriage to the general), a number of smart Americans were not only conspicuous by their very presence, but also by discriminating taste in their costumes. The Countess de Chambrun herself, was gowned in black lace and chiffon with a cluster of gardenias in white at the depth of the front décolletage. Madame Emma Eames, of operatic fame, wore a shade of blue-grey lace that set her lovely white hair off to perfection. Miss Anne Morgan was very resplendent in printed chiffon with red predominating. The Princess Ruspoli, daughter of the Marquis de Chambrun, who was Margaret Reeves, of Cincinnati, wore a white crepe gown with green velvet shoulder straps. Mrs. Granville Barker, wife of the playwright, made a lovely picture in blue lame woven with silver threads.

We might add that General Pershing was his ever-distinguished self, his rapidly whitening hair lending additional prestige to his arrow-straight bearing. Tall and humorous-seeming, James H. Perkins, president of the National City Bank of New York, ran him a close second, and the two gentlemen themselves were only eclipsed by the host, General Count Adolphe de Chambrun, meticulous in his "smoking." We might also mention the artist of the occasion, Tomas Alcaide, of the Scala, and his accomplished, Federico Longas, celebrated Spanish pianist, who gave a beautiful concert which was marvellously correct to the last detail.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

ROYAL OAK

A delightful day was spent on Tuesday when about forty persons, members and friends of the Royal Oak Women's Institute, journeyed by bus to Woodside Farm at Sooke, where their annual picnic was held. Leaving Royal Oak at 10 a.m., the picnicers enjoyed the delightful drive, and upon arrival Mrs. Glintz had luncheon prepared. This was served on tables arranged on the lawn. The afternoon was then spent on the beach, and on the lawn, the party returning home in the cool of the evening, after a restful and enjoyable day.

Wife Preservers

If you fear the color of a garment will run, do not put it with the rest of the wash. Wash separately and put a little salt in cool water first, adding warm water gradually before washing.

It is best to place the white shoes to be cleaned on a shoe tree, and remove surface dirt with a dry cloth. Do not clean shoes while on the feet.

Rubbing alcohol will clean your tarnished jewelry—whether it be "costume" jewelry or "real stuff." Scrub the pieces with a soft brush to make it ready for use.

When a recipe calls for cheese, it can either be cut fine to add to the other ingredients, or grated. Cutting it fine is the quickest way to make it ready for use.

If the sleeves of a sweater are wearing thin at the elbows, and provided it has sleeves that are sewn in at the armpits, put the right sleeve in the left armpit and vice versa. They will wear for quite a while longer.

City Temple Party Most Successful

With grounds gaily decorated with flags and bunting, the garden fete, in aid of the City Temple, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Holt, 1024 McGregor Avenue, yesterday afternoon, was an outstanding success and realized a handsome sum for the church funds. Rev. Dr. W. J. Thompson, pastor of the City Temple, officiated at the event and Mrs. George Holt, president of the women's auxiliary, was general convenor; Mrs. T. Clarke was convenor of the tea, assisted by Mesdames F. Brown, W. Crawford, A. Peaker, J. McGuire, and others.

An attractive programme of music and dancing was given in the course of the afternoon. Mrs. Evelyn Holt gave a solo with piano, and pupils of the Italian School of Music and Dancing gave a number of turns. Among these was a studio dance in which Elsie Robertson, Laura Peaker and Lona-Marie Atfield took part; an acrobatic dance in which the performers were Laura Peaker, an umbrella dance performed by Lona-Marie Atfield, Laura Peaker and Elsie Robertson, and a doll dance given by Muriel Marshall. The turns were roundly applauded, and thoroughly enjoyed, the accompaniments to the various dances being played by Mrs. Evelyn Holt. Another item of entertainment was an exhibition of tricks by Mr. Frank Merryfield, the "Cornish wizard."

Among those who assisted during the course of the afternoon were Mrs. E. Smart, in charge of the plain sewing; Mrs. F. Fletcher, in charge of home cooking; Mrs. J. Jones, candy; Mrs. A. E. Humphries, "the lady with a thousand pockets"; Mrs. M. Hanson, guessing contest; Miss Nadine Thompson, gold-painting; and Miss A. O'cano, convener of programmes. During the fete, bouquets of flowers were presented to Madame Atfield and her daughter, Grace, in appreciation of their kind assistance in making the affair so great a success.

Save the Pieces

By HANNAH
For the bachelor girl who is about to start housekeeping in a one-room kitchenette apartment, for the bride who is starting on a shoe string, and for the college girl which has everything in it, but is apt to be pretty jumbled up, why not a set of shoe cabinets, the cardboard kind which can be bought any place? Turn them over on their sides and change the drawers as shown in the illustration. Then label them and store all your small messy objects in a drawer. The cabinets may be put on a shelf or on the floor. There might be a drawer for playing cards, sewing supplies, cleaning supplies, wrapping paper and string, betas, driving and skating gloves, rubbers, gift wrappings, both paper, ribbon and cards, desk supplies, and oil just a score of other handy things.

If you can't afford an end table or coffee table, how about a twenty-cent camp stool, with an inexpensive tray to fit over the top of the canvas seat? It will do nicely by the studio couch, under a window or in a corner. Or it can be folded up and stowed away when not in use. Then there is the question of lamp shades. You can be very modern and original with a ten-cent star cake or salad mould. Have a hole punched in the centre to fit on the light fixture, and you have a modern and original shade. In the kitchen, the silver shade of the tin is quite correct, but in the study, bedroom or other room, you may want it painted white, or a color to match the decorations of the room.

Army Couple Married Here Last Evening

Arches decked with late Summer flowers lent a festive air to the Salvation Army Citadel, last evening, for the wedding of Captain Margaret Anderson, eldest daughter of Mr. James Anderson and of the late Mrs. Anderson, of Hamilton, Scotland, and grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Manson, Fleming Street, and Captain Ivan Halsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Halsey, Rose Street. The army band and songsters were in attendance, and Major R. Fullerton, the Victoria social officer, officiated. After a honeymoon at Cordova Bay, Captain and Mrs. Halsey will leave for their appointment at McLeod, Alberta.

Ucluelet, Long Beach

Miss Isabel Doe, after being the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hillier for a few days, left for Victoria.

Mr. James Motion, of Alberni, has been a recent visitor in Tofino and other West Coast points, but returned last week to his home.

Mr. A. Watson was a visitor in Ucluelet en route from Clayoquot to Port Alberni.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hillier and two children returned to Coal Harbour aboard the Ss. Princess Norah, after spending a three weeks' vacation in Ucluelet.

Miss Margaret West, of Regina, and Miss Winifred West, of Vancouver, after spending the past month at Long Beach, have left for Parkville, where they will spend a little time before returning to their Summer home at Maple Bay.

Mr. Allen LeMarquand, of Victoria, was a recent visitor in Tofino and other West Coast points, and will return to Victoria shortly.

Dr. W. Fraser, of Vancouver, will be a guest at the Bayview Lodge for the next few days. Dr. Fraser is spending several weeks on the West Coast on a professional tour.

Dr. J. F. B. Carruthers and three daughters, Jane, Patricia and Polly, of Pasadena, were week-end visitors at Long Beach. Dr. Carruthers and his family are spending the Summer at their home at Sprout Lake, but will return to the South at the end of the month. Dr. Carruthers is keenly interested in the development of Long Beach and in the building of a trail from Sprout Lake to Kennedy Lake, thus making Long Beach accessible by a land route, if only by a trail for pack horses, until such time as the already surveyed road can be built, and thus open up one of the most beautiful spots in Canada. Dr. Carruthers made this trip over the trail last Summer, and through his enthusiasm, several tourist parties visited the West Coast the same way, and it is felt that if this trail were put into condition for pack animals, there is no doubt it would prove a popular trip for tourists who would like to visit the West Coast, but who find a ten days' boat service inadequate.

Colquitz, Royal Oak

Major and Mrs. L. H. McQueen have as their guests, Mrs. D. A. Chalmers, of Vancouver, and Mr. A. McKechnie, of Lulu Island.

Mrs. Robert Davis, of Seattle, has returned to her home after visiting Mrs. J. Butt, Wilkinson Road.

Mrs. A. E. Percival, of Sooke, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, Carey Road.

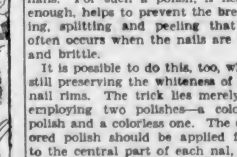

Miss Nancy Barr will leave, today, to spend her holidays at Qualicum Beach.

Gladys Glad On Beauty

The radiant Kay Francis, who was recently described by a famous English artist as the most beautiful of America's screen stars, always uses two coats of a deep red polish on her nails. And, instead of leaving the nail-tips white, as is usually done, Kay often brings the polish out to the very edge of each nail. Of course, for someone as exotically lovely as Kay, that's perfectly all right. But for the average woman while-timed fingernails are best. For this is the present accepted standard of nail beauty.

However, women who have very dry, brittle nails can derive a great deal of benefit from applying a polish out to the tips of their nails. For such a polish, if heavy enough, helps to prevent the breaking, splitting and peeling that so often occurs when the nails are dry and brittle.

It is possible to do this, too, while still preserving the whiteness of the nail rims. The trick lies merely in employing two polishes—a colored polish and a colorless one. The colored polish should be applied first to the central part of each nail, but not over the tips or half-moons. And when this has dried, the colorless polish should be applied over each entire nail. In this way the nail-polish receives its coating of polish, and remains clear and white looking.

However, brittle nails also require corrective treatments. They are caused by excessive dryness and lack of proper nourishment when the nail is in the process of formation. Sometimes the cause of the dryness is due to internal conditions, and sometimes to external ones. If a woman's diet is deficient in fat, nail dryness may easily result. And so a woman thus afflicted should first add more of the fatty foods to her diet.

If the dryness of her nails is due to external conditions, she can make up the deficiency in lubrication by external means. A bit of warmed olive oil massaged into the base of each nail nightly will help. But I've found that the best remedy is soaking the fingertips nightly in a melted mixture of one ounce of lanolin, one ounce of sweet almond oil and four drams of spermaceti. This helps to nourish the nails and restore them to a normal condition.

If August 16 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:15 a.m. to 1:15 p.m., from 3:15 to 5:15 p.m., and from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:15 to 10:15 a.m., from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m., and from 10:15 p.m. to midnight.

On this August 16 you may find that persistent endeavor will be the medium through which satisfactory results can be obtained. The person who toils on the job on this date will only experience a feeling of great dissatisfaction as the day draws to a close. You may be tempted to shirk a rather unpleasant task, but if you are wise and wish to avoid the possibility of unfavorable comment, do not succumb to the temptation. You are due to receive a financial award for some sort of work. If it does not come up to your expectation, it might be advisable not to express yourself too vigorously, and bear in mind that money today is a rather scarce commodity. Where loving hearts are involved in this day's outlook, there is such a variation in the conditions and circumstances affecting them that the only safe thing to do is to keep your temper under all conditions, and to receive a financial award for some others may also help to keep a clear atmosphere. If a woman, and August 16 is your natal day, you probably are endowed with an unusual number of accomplishments. Show your gratitude by never allowing your good fortune to cause you to assume a supercilious pose with those less fortunate. Any form of educational, literary, or economic research work may offer unlimited opportunities. If seriously taken up, may enable you to achieve unexpected recognition. Your happiness in matrimonial life can be depended on, providing you do not indulge in temperment. The child born on August 16, as it grows up, should not be subjected to the handicap spoiling creates. If over-indulged, this child might take advantage of it, and as it grows older prove difficult to control. By nature endowed with many fine and lovable traits, be watchful that an overdose of parental love does not mar any of them. If a man, and August 16 is your natal day, you are very likely conscious that you possess a mentality much better developed than the average man's. If you allow this knowledge to make you egotistical, it might prove to be a curse instead of a blessing, so be guided accordingly. The political field, journalism and the legal profession all present lines of activity for a man of your ability. Home life is advisable for one of your nature, providing you marry a woman intellectually your equal. The tiny boy had been taken for a motor ride by a friend of the family. On his return his mother said to him: "Did you thank Mr. Brown for taking you for a ride?" There was no answer. The mother repeated her question, but still there was no answer. "Jimmie," she said, "did you hear me? Did you thank Mr. Brown for taking you for a ride?" "Yes," whispered Jimmie, "but— but he told me not to mention it." Lisa was on the witness stand. "Are you positive," inquired the prosecutor, "that you know where your husband was on the night this crime was committed?" "If ah didn't," replied the witness, firmly, "den ah busted a good 'rollin' pin over an innocent man's head, dat's all."

PLAYHOUSE HAS ENGLISH DRAMA

"Autumn Crocus" Is Filmmaking of Noted Successful Play—Plot Is Strong

"Autumn Crocus," the picture version of the well-known London play success, forms one of the highlights of the season's attractions at the Playhouse. The picture, which has the inestimable advantage of the fact that its director, Basil Dean, also produced the play, tells the remarkable story of a young Manchester school mistress, on holiday on the Continent, and her romance with a handsome young innkeeper in the Austrian Tyrol.

The dramatic "conflict" in the story centres around the woman's attitude when the man, unsuspecting the depth of her affection, reveals that he is already married.

Into the pathos of the remarkable story there is blended some delightful comedy from the supporting characters, with song and music. The settings in the majestic Tyrol, with authentic local atmosphere and characters, are an added delight.

Pay Compton and Ivor Novello are in the "star" roles, also, on the same bill, is Paul Lukas, in "By Candlelight."

Columbia Stars Adolphe Menjou

Adolphe Menjou is one of a pair of gentlemen of the new school of cooks in "Blame the Woman," a high-bred, high-powered comedy, according to all reports, coming, today, to the Columbia Theatre.

Menjou and his partner in crime, Claude Allister, are good judges of wine, food and women so long as work is no hurdle in the routine of winning them. For a time they are stranded in the provinces, but eventually reach London and its luxurious hostilities, from whence they operate.

Adolphe and Allister are said to be one of the great comedy teams of recent productions. For a great part of the picture Menjou everlastingly "rides" his partner for failing for women, but toward the close of the story it is Adolphe who becomes enamoured in the wiles of a brunette.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Capital—Edward George Robinson in "The Man With Two Faces."

Columbia—"Blame the Woman," starring Adolphe Menjou.

Domination—Marlene Dietrich in "The Scarlet Empress."

Empire—"Facing the Music," featuring Stanley Lupino.

Playhouse—Pay Compton in "Autumn Crocus."

Western pictures, following her assignment to play the leads in two Monogram westerns starring Rex Bell. The latest of the pair is "Rainbow Ranch," now showing as the added attraction, which gives her nearly a dozen western pictures to her credit.

At the Empire Theatre, today, B.P. are offering a new film entitled "Facing the Music." This film, which stars Stanley Lupino, has a strong musical interest in addition to novelty comedy sequences designed specially for the comedian's individual and original talents.

The story of the film tells of a young man who falls in love at first sight with the girl who occupies a box opposite him at the opera, and his subsequent endeavors to make her "name the day." The climax of his adventures and romance behind the scenes in an opera house, comes to an exciting and original finale as the curtain falls on a performance of "Faust," scenes from which were actually filmed for this production.

"With Williamson Beneath the Sea," thrilling epic of the "lost worlds" of the seven seas, comes as the added attraction. Produced by J. R. Williamson, scientist, underwater explorer and the man who originated motion picture photography "down under," the new feature is said to be an amazing panorama of Dave Jones' locker.

CAPITOL John Eldredge, who re-

THEATRE recently arrived on the Warner lot, from Broadway, makes his screen bow in the murder mystery thriller, "The Man With Two Faces," now at the Capitol Theatre. What pleases young Mr. Eldredge most, however, is that he also had a chance to see his family. Arriving in San Francisco, he was met by a wire requesting his immediate presence in Hollywood, so he had to take a plane half an hour later. But at least he saw them.

"STAMBOUL QUEST" IS BILLED FOR DOMINION

Since Lionel Atwill made his first bow in motion pictures, in 1931, he has always been seen in some sort of skulduggery upon the screen.

Now, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has shown him of his villainous screen mask to give him one of his biggest opportunities to display his versatility as a character actor.

He appears in the kindly, understanding characterization of Herr Von Sturm, chief of Germany's Bureau of Counter Espionage, in the new picture, "Stamboul Quest," which opens at the Dominion Theatre, on Friday.

Myrna Loy and George Brent appear in the leading roles. The cast includes C. Henry Gordon and Judith Vosselli. Bernard Hyman was the producer and Sam Wood the director.

UNUSUAL RACE ON AIR TODAY

Columbia to Carry Description of the Colorful Siena, Italy, Horse Meeting

A description of the world's oldest annual sporting event, the colorful horse race around the principal square of Siena, Italy, will be brought to Canadian listeners for the first time, today, from 9:30 to 10 a.m. P.S.T. by short wave over the Columbia network. Edward Storer, well-known foreign correspondent, will be at the microphone and KOL, KVI will release the programme.

Siena's Palio, or horse race between representatives of different wards or sections of the city, has been run since the middle of the fourteenth century with only an occasional break when war or famine has devastated the country. The Palio resembles a medieval pageant.

The jockeys are in costumes of colorful doublets, shining hose, pennons, and fantastic headgear. Just before starting time the contestants ride down the centre aisle of the cathedral and are blessed by the Archbishop of Siena from his throne near the altar.

The ordinary rules of racing do not apply to the Palio. Bumping, charging, hitting rival jockeys over the head or body is frantically applauded by the spectators. Excitement runs so high after the race that the winner is always given police protection against possible assault from the losing wards.

Invention May Prevent Explosions

WILLIAM H. Horn, of Winnipeg, Man., has perfected an invention which will prevent gasoline explosions during fires. Principle of the invention consists of fine mesh wire core, placed inside gasoline container. It is especially suited and folded to form a cylinder extending into the container and equipped with solder plug as emergency valve. In a demonstration, the inventor placed a gallon can of gasoline, while the fire outside burned, in the midst of a fire. The gasoline boiled, but did not explode.

Little Bedtime Stories

Prickly Porky Takes a Sun Bath

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Prickly Porky came down from a tall poplar tree and slowly stretched himself. He was tired of swinging in the treetop.

"I believe I'll have a sun bath," said Prickly Porky, and lazily walked toward the edge of the Green Forest in search of a place where the sun lay warm and bright.

Now Prickly Porky's stomach was very, very full. He was fat, and naturally lazy, so when he came to the doorstep of an old house just on the edge of the Green Forest, he sat down to rest. It was sunny and warm there, and the longer he sat the less like moving he felt. He looked about him with his dull eyes and grunted to himself.

"It's a deserted house. Nobody lives here, and I guess nobody'll care if I take a nap right here on the doorstep," said Prickly Porky to himself. "And I don't care if they do," he added, for Prickly Porky the Porcupine is afraid of nobody and nothing on the Green Meadows.

So Prickly Porky made himself as comfortable as possible, yawned once or twice, tried to wink at jolly, round, red Mr. Sun, who was winking and smiling down at him, and then fell fast asleep right on the doorstep of the old house.

Now the old house had been deserted. No one had lived in it for a long, long time, a very long time. Indeed, but it happened that the night before old Granny Fox and Reddy Fox had to move out of their nice home on the edge of the Green Meadows because Farmer Browns Boy had found it. Reddy was very stiff and sore, so that he could hardly walk, and could not go very far. So old Granny Fox had led him to the old deserted house and put him to bed in that.

"No one will think of looking for us here, for everyone knows that no one lives here," said old Granny Fox as she made Reddy as comfortable as possible.

As soon as it was daylight Granny Fox slipped out to watch for Farmer Browns Boy, for she felt sure that he would come back to the house they had left, and sure enough he did. He brought a spade and dug the house open, and all the time old Granny Fox was watching him from behind a fence corner and laughing to think that she had been smart enough to move in the night.

But Reddy Fox didn't know anything about this. He was so tired that he slept and slept and slept. It was the middle of the morning when finally he awoke. He yawned and stretched, and when he stretched he groaned because he was so stiff and sore. Then he hobbled up toward the doorway to see

So Prickly Porky Made Himself as Comfortable as Possible

If Old Granny Fox Had Left any breakfast outside for him.

It was very dark. Reddy was puzzled. Could it be that he had got up before daylight—that he hadn't slept as long as he thought? Perhaps he had slept the whole day through and it was night again. My, how hungry he was!

"I hope Granny has caught a fine fat chicken for me," thought Reddy, and his mouth watered.

Just then he ran bump into something. "Wow!" screamed Reddy Fox and clapped both hands to his nose. Something was sticking into it. It was one of the sharp little spears that Prickly Porky hid in his coat. Reddy Fox knew then why the old house was so dark. Prickly Porky was blocking up the doorway.

Canada's Exports

Increase in Year

OTTAWA, Aug. 15 (CP).—In spite of the falling off in wheat exports last month compared with a year ago, Canada's total exports were greater in July this year than last. There were impressive increases in newsprint and automobile exports. The figures were released today by the Department of National Revenue.

The Dominion continued to have an export balance, the total exports including foreign goods re-exported being $56,786,666 and imports for consumption, $41,145,990. The export balance for the four months ending July 31 was $27,966,255.

Supreme Court Order Halts Payment of $200,000 to Bonding Company

VANCOUVER, Aug. 15 (CP).—An injunction, restraining Royal Bank of Canada, Vancouver, from paying $200,000 to American Bonding Company, Baltimore, at the suit of Mrs. Florence A. Willis, Vancouver, was continued until trial of the action by order of Chief Justice Morrison in Supreme Court, today.

Mrs. Willis had been granted an interim injunction by Mr. Justice Fisher two weeks ago when she alleged that the money had been deposited by her with the bank as indemnity for bail provided by the American Bonding Company for her brother, George C. Reifel, and her father, Henry Reifel, who face criminal charges in Seattle concerning alleged smuggling of liquor into the United States.

EXPLAINS CIRCUMSTANCES J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., appeared for Mrs. Willis, today. He stated that she had been induced to give the $200,000 security to the bonding company, and she later discovered that the arrangement was illegal and invalid. Mr. Farris intimated he was prepared to discuss the grounds actuating Mrs. Willis' application when the permanency of the injunction is considered.

For the bank, Mr. Alfred Bull, K.C., stated his client wished to remain neutral in the dispute and did not wish to be forced into opposing the injunction. He pointed out the writ had not yet been served on the American Bonding Company.

The chief justice said he was prepared to hear any objection Mr. Bull had; and he added he did not see how the bank was prejudiced. He explained the parties can apply at any time.

The American Bonding Company, it was indicated, may enter an appearance and move to set aside the injunction on August 22.

Yankees Finally Halt Winning Streak of Pennant-Seeking Detroit Tigers

JOHNNY BROACA IN FINE TRIUMPH OVER DETROIT SQUAD, 8-2

Former Yale Student Pitches McCarthy's Crew to Brilliant Victory in Crucial Series—Athletics Take Pair From Sox—Giants and Pirates Split—Foxy Hits Homer

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (AP).—New York Yankees got up off the floor today, after their double knock-out, and broke the winning streak of the pennant-mad Detroit Tigers, in the third game of their fight for a place in the American League baseball supremacy.

Delivering a succession of counter-attacks that blasted Tommy Bridges and his young Yankees rallied behind the effective pitching of the young Yale graduate, Johnny Broaca, to score an 8-2 decision.

Broaca served notice that he is not entirely to be counted out of the pennant battle. The Tigers were stopped after winning fourteen consecutive games. They had equalled the best mark for successive triumphs ever made by a Detroit team, the 1909 champions of the American League.

Broaca quickly contributed to his own undoing by wildness. He walked three Yankees in the first two innings, and two of them scored, one on Ben Chapman's single in the first field, and another on Frankie Crosetti's home run drive in the left field stands in the second inning. This was sufficient to clinch the game, but the Yankees could not resist the temptation to run up the score.

Broaca yielded ten safe blows, but he was highly effective in the pinches and, in the sixth, when the Tigers scored their only runs, the young Yankee pitcher was aided by some magnificent defensive work by the aging Babe Ruth.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15 (AP).—Philadelphia Athletics ran a winning streak to five straight by taking a double-header from Chicago White Sox today. The Mackmen won the first, 7-4, and came back behind Bill Dietrich's pitching to take the nightcap, 2-1.

First game: R. H. E. Chicago 4 8 0 Philadelphia 7 4 0 Batteries—Cullinan, Thome and Madjeski; Cain and F. Hayes.

Second game: R. H. E. Chicago 1 7 1 Philadelphia 2 5 0 Batteries—Cullinan, Thome and Shea; Madjeski, Dietrich and Berry.

WALBERG WINS GAME BOSTON, Aug. 15 (AP).—The veteran, George "Rube" Walberg, held St. Louis Browns to five hits today, as Boston Red Sox scored a 4-2 win, their second straight victory over Hornsby's charges.

First game: R. H. E. New York 5 9 1 Pittsburgh 4 10 3 Batteries—Pittsinger, Smith and Mancuso; French and Grace.

Second game: R. H. E. New York 3 8 1 Pittsburgh 4 7 0 Batteries—Schumacher, Bell and

Sons of Canada To Meet Eagles In Third Game

WITH the series standing one-all, Sons of Canada and Eagles, Twilight Baseball League nines, will meet this evening at the Royal Athletic Park in the third game of the post-season play-downs for the league championship and the prized J. E. Humphreys Cup.

Wilt Shouldice, who heaved the feathered tribe to victory Tuesday evening, is expected to go to the mound again tonight. Alex Dick or Sonny Walker will do the hurling for the Canadians.

The game will get under way at 6:15 o'clock with umpires Drysdale and McGinnis in charge.

Break Even CINCINNATI, Aug. 15 (AP).—Casey Stengel shook up his Dodgers line-up for the second game of a double-header and shook the club right out of its losing ways. After the Reds had made it two straight with a 7-5 triumph in the opener, the revised Brooklyn team came back to win, 7-4.

First game: R. H. E. Cincinnati 7 14 0 Brooklyn 5 7 0 Batteries—Mungo, Clark and Lopez; Derringer, Benton and Lombardi.

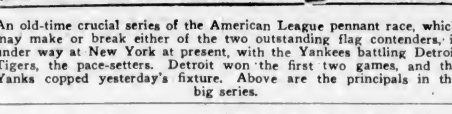

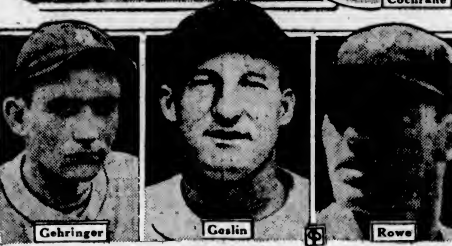

Second game: R. H. E. Cincinnati 4 12 2 Brooklyn 9 14 2 Batteries—Blalock, Leonard and Lopez; Johnson, Kolp and Lombardi.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE MONTREAL, Aug. 15 (CP).—Behind the five-hit pitching of Marvin Duke, Newark Bears humbled Montreal Royals tonight, 9-1, and shoved them into sixth place.

First game: R. H. E. Montreal 1 5 4 Baltimore 4 10 0 Toronto 2 4 1 Batteries—Richmond and Hendrix; Hatcher and Heinke.

In the Midst of Big Series

An old-time crucial series of the American League pennant race, which may make or break either of the two outstanding flag contenders, is under way at New York at present, with the Yankees battling Detroit Tigers, the pace-setters. Detroit won the first two games, and the Yankees copped yesterday's fixture. Above are the principals in the big series.

MISS JACOBS HAS NARROW NET VICTORY

Defending Tennis Champion Stages Comeback to Win in U.S. Tournament

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Aug. 15 (AP).—Seven seeded stars—two from Great Britain—and one non-seeded player, survived the third round of the forty-seventh women's United States tennis championship today.

Completely out-stroked and out-maneuvred in the first set, Miss Jacobs applied the pressure mercilessly in the following two sets and disposed of Mrs. Mary Greif Harris, of Kansas City, 5-7, 6-2, 6-3.

With Miss Jacobs in gaining the quarter-final round were Sarah Palfrey, of Brookline, Mass.; Carolyn Babcock, of Los Angeles, and Harriette Maude Levi, of Minden, Nev., who yesterday vanquished Betty Nuthall, former British holder of the title, in straight sets.

MISS RYAN WINS Dorothy Andrus, of Stamford, Conn., and the veteran Elizabeth Ryan, of England, advanced to the round of eight along with Freda James and Katherine Stammers, of England.

Miss Ryan defeated Helen Fulton, a Chicago youngster, 6-1, 6-3. Miss Palfrey defeated Dr. Esther Bartosh, of Los Angeles, 6-1, 7-5. Miss Babcock humbled Mrs. Penelope McBride, of Short Hills, N.J., 6-2, 6-3, and Miss Andrus won over Theodora Smith, of Los Angeles, 6-0, 6-2.

Baroness Levi eliminated Bonnie Miller, Los Angeles, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4. The advance of Miss Jacobs and Miss Stammers kept alive the fire under the invading threat. Miss Jacobs defeated Marianne Hunt, of Los Angeles, 6-2, 6-4, and Miss Stammers conquered Katharine Winthrop, of Boston, 6-3, 6-0.

KEEN COMPETITION MARKS TOURNAMENT AT COLWOOD COURSE

Paul Murphy, Curtis Harold, E. L. Mann and J. Green Win Way Into Semis of Grand Championship—Victoria Well Represented in Classes and Flights—Final Tomorrow

Sharp competition featured yesterday's quarter-final matches in the grand championship of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association tournament, at the Royal Colwood course. The nineteenth hole was the scene of one of the triumphs, while another ended on the eighth, and one at the seventeenth.

The fourth round was also decided on the seventeenth green. In today's semi-finals, two Seattle players, and one each from Portland and Wenatchee, will battle it out to see who will meet tomorrow in the eighteen-hole final for the crown taken from the brow of W. H. Abbott, Bellingham, in the opening round clashes.

Victoria's colors were still flying in all the class championships but "D" Dr. Garache will carry the Capital City's banner in Class "A" as a result of his nip-and-tuck win over W. L. Bilger, Bellevue, at the twentieth hole, while C. Stander took the measure of C. A. Thompson, another Victorian, to stay in the running for Class "B" honors.

5 and 3. A. T. Goward eliminated J. A. Scott, Capital City entry, to keep in the Class "C" semis, and Joe Wilson, twice a winner of the grand, is the lone Victorian in the first flight of the grand, due to his narrow victory over G. O. Nettleton, of Spokane, 2 and 1. The results of the flights are well sprinkled with local and invading contenders. Many of the victories were decided after extra holes, which goes to show the keenness with which the matches are being played.

CLOSE MATCH Paul C. Murphy, Portland's lone survivor in the grand championship, and the veteran who created a sensation in the first-round tussles by eliminating W. B. Abbott, defending champion and medalist, had to break 80 to put out J. A. Byerley, 1930 holder of the crown, of Portland. Murphy was forced to display his best knowledge of the royal and ancient pastime to dispose of Byerley. He was 1 up at the halfway distance and the pair were all square and one to go. Caring a beautiful par four at the eighteenth, Murphy took the hole and the match.

Curtis Harold, Seattle, who was medalist two years ago, had his hands full in winning from R. W. Thatcher, another Sound City exponent, at the first extra hole. Both about 78's over the eighteen-hole distance, Harold was 2 up and 2 to go, but lost the seventeenth and eighteenth holes to par fours, but a perfect figure at the nineteenth gave Harold the decision. Green and Warren had a close argument. They were all square and 3 to go. The former cut loose to win the sixteenth and seventeenth and the match, while E. L. Mann, the sole entry from Wenatchee, disposed of G. H. Raleigh, Tacoma, at the seventeenth hole. They were all square and 7 to go, when Mann opened up with a flock of pars to capture three out of the remaining seven holes to take the verdict.

GREAT VICTORY One feature of the tournament was the narrow margin in which Abbott, defending titleholder and medalist, won from A. L. Gile, Chinook, in the first flight of the grand championship. The pair battled on even terms most of the journey and were all square at the seventeenth, with the final hole facing the victor. Both played the eighteenth like champions, being on the green in two. Abbott was

FRED PERRY DROPS OUT

English Net Star Drops From Eastern Meet—Shields Also Defaults

NEWPORT, R.I., Aug. 15 (AP).—A bombshell in the form of the default of the defending champion, Sidney Wood, stunned the Newport Casino tennis tournament today. Shields, too, defaulted, and the tournament was left in comparative idleness. Shields' default was due to a leg injury, suffered in England and aggravated on shipboard. J. Gilbert Hall, of New York, slipped into the quarter-finals round by the default. There he will meet Frankie Parker, of Springfield, N.J.

Bryan "Bitsy" Grant, of Atlanta, United States clay court champion, gained a break on the field and the first place in the semi-finals with a five-set victory over Gregory Mangin, of Newark, N.J., 6-3, 6-4, 4-6, 5-7, 6-2.

In the other two singles engagements, Sidney Wood qualified for the quarter-finals by breaking down Jack Hibball's backhand for a 6-2, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4 victory, while Johnny van Ryn, of Philadelphia, downed Gene Mako, of Los Angeles, United States junior champion, 6-0, 6-3, 6-3.

PERRY DEFAULTS Default of Fred Perry, British dandy Cup ace, and Frank Wilde, his countryman, revived the dampen interest in the doubles, but George Lott and Lester Stoefer, who gave the United States its only point in the international team final against England, revived the competition with their belated appearance. This brilliant pair upset Dean Mathey, of New York, and Thomas Flynn, Bayville, L.I., 6-2, 6-1, in a second round match before overwhelming Martin Rusby, Miami, and C. J. Challis, Jr., Dallas, Texas, 6-1, 6-1.

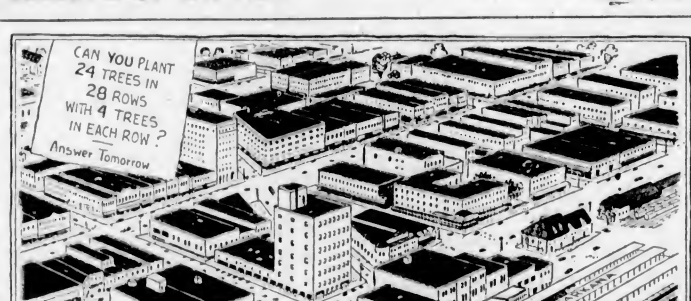

ALDERSHOT, England, Aug. 15 (CP).—The touring Australian cricketers who open the last and decisive test match with England, Saturday, today defeated the Army team by six wickets, but continued batting for a while longer for practice. It was a one-day match.

W. J. O'Reilly and young E. H. Bromley had a good workout on the attack, the former getting three wickets for 17, and Bromley, a relief bowler, three for 21. Don Bradman signalled his first appearance since his thigh injury during the fourth test match by scoring 79 runs. Final scores: Army 110, Australians 194 for 7.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON The Blind Auto Mechanic—The story of Fred A. Wilcox, Ripley, N.Y., garage owner, provides a paradox unequaled in the automobile industry. For, in the past twelve years, he has serviced thousands of automobiles—supplied them with gas and oil—repaired thousands of tires—adjusted carburetors—and every other automotive job from cleaning spark plugs to overhauling entire motors. Yet he has never seen an automobile.

When Mr. Wilcox was but a small boy, more than fifty years ago, he suffered the loss of his eyesight. With the advent of the automobile, he became interested in them and has since mastered the art of repairing the delicate motor parts purely by his sense of touch and memory of where parts belong. All his tools are carefully pigeon-holed where he can pick them up immediately, and his finished jobs are excellently done.

His simple philosophy accounts for his unequalled success in life—"Stick to it or starve."

Lafitte the Pirate—On November 24, 1813, William C. Claiborne, Governor of Louisiana, issued a proclamation offering $500 for the arrest of Jean Lafitte, the pirate who with his brother and a gang of 100 men, ran a freebooter and smuggling settlement on a group of secluded islands in Barataria Bay, about forty miles south of New Orleans. Two days later, Lafitte's proclamation appeared beside that of the Governor, offering $1,500 for the arrest of Governor Claiborne.

While the Governor had to remain indoors busy with the problems of the war with England, Lafitte and his companions continued to swagger through the streets unmolested. Only a short time later, however, law and order prevailed again, when Governor Claiborne obtained an indictment, with which a Federal Navy and Army force raided the Barataria settlement and arrested the privateers, who were brought to trial.

Non-Playing Captain of Provincial Team Scores Two Fine Victories at Montreal—Mainlander Continues to Show Form—Leonard and Morrison Lose—Campbell Wins

By J. P. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LAVAL-SUR-LE-LAC, Que., Aug. 15 (CP)—Three rising stars in the Canadian golfing firmament flashed across the horizon today when the field in the Dominion Amateur tournament was cut to sixteen players, ten Canadians, five Americans, and H. J. Jukes, from Cartagena, Colombia, South America.

Ken Black, twenty-two-year-old son of the famous Vancouver pro, Dave Trappelo, Mass., on the nineteenth hole, was seven times amateur king of his state. In a saw-battle in which neither man was ever more than one up, Black advanced to the third round, where he knocked off Bobby Reith, Winnipeg, former Manitoba open and amateur title.

Another twenty-two-year-old youngster, Phil Farley, Toronto, carried Jesse Guilford, of Boston, 1921 American amateur title and former Walker Cup team member, to the twenty-second green before being eliminated from the third round. Farley was one over par for the twenty-two holes.

Jack Munger, Dallas, Tex., semifinalist in the American amateur two years ago and considered once or twice for his country's Walker Cup team, had to post sub-par figures to send to the sidelines Jack Archer, of Montreal, in the third round.

Two eighteen-hole rounds were played today over the tricky Laval course to cut the field from sixty-four to sixteen. Two more eighteen-hole rounds will follow tomorrow to reach the semi-finals Friday.

CAMPBELL ADVANCES

Albert "Scotty" Campbell, Seattle, who took the title to the United States last year for the second time, won his two rounds today. In the morning he defeated John Nies, Boston, finalist in the Massachusetts amateur this year, 4 and 3. Then the Pacific Coast lad went on to his second win of the day over a fellow countryman, eliminating G. H. Flynn, of Oakmount, Pa., 4 and 3.

His two rounds demonstrated to the gallery that Campbell has reached the top of his game and will be a tough man to keep out of the semi-finals, if not the final. He was two over par for the fifteen holes against Flynn.

MATSON SCORES TWICE

Jack Matson, non-playing captain of the British Columbia squad, which retained the Willingdon Cup, on Monday, in the inter-provincial series, advanced to the last sixteen, with two victories. Matson, who hails from Victoria, B.C., put out R. C. Duchemin, Halifax, at the twentieth hole, in the forenoon, and then accounted for Garth Thompson, Montreal, in the afternoon, 2 up. In the morning, Thompson ousted Bob Morrison, Victoria, 2 and 1. Stan Leonard, of Vancouver, passed from the picture in the morning.

Virginia Vane Says:

HISTORIC LOVE AFFAIRS THRIVE ON SECRECY

Dear Virginia Vane: I have been married five years, quite happily, and have a son whom I love very much. Therefore it came as a great shock when I discovered recently that my wife is deeply interested in another man. This man is a friend of mine, and he and his wife spend much of their time with us. I know that he is unhappily married and that it is only a question of time before his marriage breaks up. My wife has reached the point where she can't help showing her feeling, and the situation is becoming intolerable. I have reason to believe that the man in the case is very weak and susceptible to women. Would it do any good if I brought this fact to my wife's attention? I'm deeply hurt and still very much in love.

—Jack—

Bring this situation into the clear light of day. The longer this romance remains a secret, that much longer will your wife enjoy the sensation of playing star in a big love drama.

I don't believe that her emotions are seriously involved yet. She is playing at love, and the other man's unhappy marriage is a melodramatic background for her performance. Take away the glamour immediately, remove the stage props and the romantic lighting effects, and reveal the shoddy scene in its commonplace aspect.

Talk the situation over with your wife. Don't be dramatic, but ask her to give you some inkling of what she intends to do. Say that you have watched the progress of this affair, and that you must know to believe that she is sincere in her affection, but that you must know what her plans are to be. Suggest that you three meet to discuss the future. Whatever your private convictions you must be very careful not to let your wife know that you consider this just a passing infatuation. You must appear to take her seriously, and you must insist on taking this seriously, but don't be dramatic, and, above all, make them lay their cards on the table. I am sure you will find that they have a weaker hand than they believe. Good luck to you.

Most of these little flirtations cannot stand the light of realism. If you can bring either of the participants to exercise honest grey matter, you will have started to effect a cure.

Don't be discouraged. If this man is weak and susceptible, as well as married, he will be an adequate hero for this drama. And while we are on the subject of your rival, wouldn't it be a good idea to study him with a view to finding out just what it is about him that your wife misses in you? Sometimes an affair of this sort has a healthy influence on the young husband who has acquired the take-it-for-granted habit. Take this seriously, but don't be dramatic, and, above all, make them lay their cards on the table. I am sure you will find that they have a weaker hand than they believe. Good luck to you.

E.B.: Your husband is beginning to adjust himself comfortably to this situation which is so painful to you. He hasn't the strength to combat his mother. Of course you should come first, and your husband must be made to realize this. As it stands now, he is giving in to his mother's tyrannical one minute and to his natural feeling for you the next. So that he has the illusion of pleasing you both, and in a great many ways you are helping to strengthen the illusion. Your occasional gifts of money, your acceptance of casual visits tend to prolong this unsatisfactory relationship.

I know how hard it will be for you to make a clean break, but you must threaten to do this. If you are really determined never to see him again, he will come to his senses. At least, you must tell him so, because obviously you cannot go on this way any longer. As it is you have nothing to lose. You can know no greater unhappiness than that caused by suspense. Complete separation would eventually bring you some peace of mind, but if you have the courage to refuse to see him for a while, I feel sure he will learn that his first duty is to you. You have by deepest sympathy, and I shall hope to hear that you have won your happiness.

Dear Virginia Vane: I am quite unhappy over a boy I have been going with three years. He has never mentioned love, but I thought we had a nice friendship. Now he seems to be attracted to another girl. He has broken two dates with me, and of course I can't complain because we never had any sort of understanding, but I guess I must have wanted something more than just a friendship. I don't want to be unfair to this other girl, but it seems to me that my friend is really fond of me in spite of this flirtation. Could you advise me what to do?—Lucy.

It sounds to me as though you had an extremely pleasant relationship which it would be worth your while to keep. A friendship of three years' standing is a mighty valuable thing to have around the house. It is often more useful than a half-dozed meaningless flirtations.

However, if love interest is necessary for your happiness, and the present state of affairs causes you suffering, then I think it would be wiser for you to give up all claim and let him make his own choice between you. I am hoping that you will be able to continue the friendship.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"BRAT" children or words will turn out. Take, for illustration, the word "brat".

As early as the sixteenth century "brat" was used synonymously with "offspring," its connotation of contempt being of recent interpretation.

In 1577, we find the writer Gascoigne referring to the children of Abraham in the lines:

"O Israel! O Household of the Lord!
O Abraham's brats! O brood of blessed seed"

Says Shakespeare: "This brat is none of mine." And Swift alludes to a child as "a beggar's brat." Both, however, cast no reflections.

Cromwell, solicitous about the health of a friend's child inquires "How the little brat doth" while Scott called himself "a single indulged brat."

While the derivation of the word "brat" is unknown, we should suspect a cognate connection between it and "breed" or "brood."

"Did he make an important speech?"

"No; just self-important."

MODERNIZATION OF BIBLE URGED

New Zealand Synod Would Change Format to Suit Present-Day Needs

NEW PLYMOUTH, N.Z. (UP).—Colored covers and an up-to-date twentieth century face are needed for the oldest Christian book, the Bible, to bring it into line with present-day tastes, according to a resolution passed by prominent church officials in New Zealand. They believe that the Bible suffers in comparison with other books of today by reason of its antiquated appearance and layout.

This resolution of the General Synod of New Zealand advocates a wholesale modernization of the Bible by the substitution of a brighter binding for the present universal black one; the use of larger and more legible type; and the reorganization of the present chapter and verse numbers to the margin for reference purposes.

It also is urged that poetry should be printed as poetry and dialogue as dialogue with the use of quotation marks. Another improvement suggested is that the double columns commonly used today should be abolished so as to let the type run right across the page.

The Synod believes that the whole Bible should be rearranged in chronological sequence instead of the present traditional order of the books, and that the Apocrypha, now usually omitted, should be given a place in the Bible of today.

This resolution will be forwarded to the heads of the British and Irish churches, the Archbishops of Canterbury, York and Armagh.

Three Injured by Dynamite Bomb

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (AP).—A dynamite bomb exploded early today in the doorway of a small print shop on the ground floor of the Edgewater Beach Hotel. Three persons were hurt.

Windows of three floors of the hotel, situated on the Lake Shore on Chicago's North Side, were shattered, and property damage is estimated at between $1,000 and $1,500.

A strike of members of the Electrical Workers' Union has been in progress at the hotel since last January. Waiters and cooks later walked out in sympathy.

Laughing Girl Mystery

By Viola Partridge

CHAPTER XVII

"Did you notice which way Swift went, Joey?" Alby asked Timmott.

"Yes. I ran after him and said, 'Tall, Mr. Swift, and he gives a sort of grunt, and then a taxi drives up. And he says, 'Sixty-Six East Sixty-Third Street and be quick about it.'"

"But that's our house!" exclaimed Mrs. Coe. "Willard, did you hear—the museum number?"

Dr. Coe was looking fixedly at Joey now, but he said nothing.

"Go on," Alby commanded.

"That's all there is, Mr. Alby. Except what I say to Mr. Steng."

"What was that?"

"I says, 'Listen, Mr. Steng, I bet you 315 is a bad actor.' And I tell him about the lady's stuff sticking out of the truck and the letters. And I says, 'Another funny thing, Mr. Steng, the way he wore his hat down over his eyes.'"

"And that was all the conversation you had with Mr. Steng?"

"Yes, sir. Until today when I come on duty. Then Mr. Steng says to me, 'Maybe you're right, Joey, about 315. His bed wasn't slept in last night.' And before I could answer, zizz-zing went the phone, and somebody was asking about that trunk check. And when Mr. Steng told me, I says, 'I bet it's murder.' Only I didn't think it had anything to do with the girl that died laughing."

"And now you think it has?" asked Alby.

"Well, here I am, and here's all these folks, and the address Dennis Swift gave on Sixty-Third Street like this lady said—Joey nodded at Mrs. Coe.

"How long was it from the time Dennis Swift entered the hotel till he left?" Alby asked.

"About ten minutes. Not more, fifteen anyhow."

Alby cleared his throat. "Joey," he said very slowly, "I want you to tell us if there is anyone in this room who looks like Dennis Swift."

Joey, who had been talking fluently and easily up to this time, hesitated. "Well," he said after a pause, "Yes. There is."

Every one leaned forward eagerly, except Dr. Coe.

"Which one is it, Joey?" Alby demanded.

Joey shook his head. "But it ain't him. There's some one here might be his twin brother, except for two things."

"Which one is it?" Alby repeated.

"Only it isn't," Joey insisted. "His height ain't right, and then the scratch on his hand—"

"His hand?" exclaimed Mr. Coggs, rising to his feet and wheeling about so that he faced Sheridan.

"You! You!" His voice was almost a scream. "Now I've got it! Now I know where I saw you! That gas inspector, Tuesday. I knew there was something queer about him. You're the gas inspector!"

All eyes were now on Sheridan, standing pale and astonished. But his voice was steady. "You are mistaken," he said gravely.

"No, no, I swear it! The minute I saw you last night I knew I'd seen you before. Mamma, you saw him. Look at him! He was dressed different, and there wasn't a scratch on his hand then, and his hands were dirty. But look at the shape of his hands—"

Mrs. Coggs, who had been peering up at Sheridan's face, and then down at his hands, and then up at his face again, turned to her husband and moved her head slowly up and down in agreement.

After a painful silence, Sheridan spoke. "We must find the man who's been impersonating me." He turned to Mr. Coggs. "That gas inspector? Exactly what did he look like, and exactly what did he say?"

Mr. Coggs, his excitement only slightly abated, turned angrily to Alby. "First time I ever heard of a murderer allowed to do the cross-questioning."

"We've not found the murderer yet," said Alby. "Only a resemblance in the shape of what may be two pairs of hands. Sit down, everybody."

"It's not only the hands," Coggs insisted. "They just put me on the right track. It's the rest of him, too. Because the gas inspector—I mean him when was acting as gas inspector—had soiled workman's clothes on, and smudges on his face. And his hands were dirty—black under the nails, and on the knuckles. I never thought of his hands till that boy there—"

Mr. Coggs broke off and looked from Alby to Joey and back to Sheridan. "Funny," he said to Alby, "I thought there was something queer about the gas inspector at the time."

"What was queer about him?" Alby asked.

"Well, I've owned houses for years in New York and no inspector before ever had to go through all the apartments. I told him so. He said all he knew was he had his orders and showed his badge. And he lighted and turned off every oven and every burner in the house."

"What was peculiar about that?" asked Alby.

"The snooty way he did it was peculiar. He seemed to look around everywhere, not only at the gas fixtures."

"And you are willing to swear in court that Mr. Dinard here was the gas inspector?" demanded Alby.

"I'd stake my life on it."

Adelaide dashed across to Sheridan. She trembled as she clung to him. He said to her in a low voice, "It will come out all right, darling. Don't you see, if some one is palming himself off as me, it'll make the solution all the easier? He's bound to slip up."

"Yes," Coggs repeated. "That's him. I'd stake my life on it."

"Well, I wouldn't," Joey Timmott spoke up warmly. "In fact, I'll bet you ten to one it wasn't. My dime to your dollar." He put his hand into his pocket and fished out a dime. "How about it, mister? We'll let the detective here hold the stakes. Anybody else want to bet?"

Alby said severely, "This is no time for clowning, Joey."

"You said it!" Joey continued. "He ain't finding it funny." He pointed to Sheridan. "But if I was him I'd not worry about that gas inspector, if it's the same fella came round our hotel last night. Because Mr. Dinard ain't Dennis Swift. And he ain't his twin brother, neither."

Adelaide said, half sobbing, "You're right, Joey. I couldn't have been Mr. Dinard. Even if it wasn't crazy to consider the possibility at all, it couldn't have been. Because your Dennis Swift didn't have a scratch, and I happen to know Mr. Dinard scratched his hand night before last—"

"The young man," Coggs sneered, "may not be such a champion observer as he's cracked up to be. He might not have noticed the scratch."

"Oh, mightn't I?" Joey boasted. "I did see the scratch—"

"But you said there was no scratch."

"I never. I said Dennis Swift might have been his twin brother if it wasn't for two things—he wasn't the right height and the scratch on his hand—"

"Stop betting," Alby ordered sharply. "Explain exactly what you mean."

"O.K., Mr. Alby. I wasn't getting fresh, honest. This Dennis Swift looked the spittin' image of Mr. Dinard—what you could see of him with his hat on. Come to think of it, this Swift fella musta been trying not to show his eyes. But the way he walked and the way he stood, and even his voice—they were all just about exactly like Mr. Dinard. I can't say about the shape of his hands, because when you looked at his right hand, the scar took your eye. It was exactly like Mr. Dinard's scar. And no twin brothers would be likely to have the same scar. And then Dennis Swift wasn't so tall."

"You mean this Swift looked exactly like Dinard except for his height?"

"Well, I never got a good look at his eyes, like I told you. But it don't matter. It wasn't him. Because Dennis Swift was a good two inches shorter."

An uneasy pause followed. "Two inches," thought Sheridan. "Two inches between me and the electric chair. But will they believe him?"

Mr. Coggs's flat voice broke the silence. "I suppose you measured him?"

"Did he growled at Joey."

"Did he growled at Joey."

"Did he growled at Joey."

"Did he growled at Joey."

"Did he growled at Joey."

ESTATE OF H. A. SIFTON

VALUED AT $500,000

TORONTO, Aug. 15 (CP).—An estate valued at $500,000 and comprised of real estate, stocks and bonds and miscellaneous assets, is disposed of in the will of Harry A. Sifton, prominent Canadian newspaper owner and noted horseman, who died here last June.

The will bequeaths personal belongings and the home to the widow, who also derives all income from the estate. After her death the residue is left to the son, Clifford Maclean Sifton.

"Little bankroll, ere we part, Let me press you to my heart. All the year I've worked for you, I've been faithful, you've been true. Little bankroll in a day, You and I will go away. To find some easy and festive spot; I'll return—but you will not."

Two unfortunate accidents detracted from the pleasure of an otherwise highly successful picnic. Descending the steep hill to the beach, the car of J. Vos went out of control and overturned. Mrs. B. McMillan, of Cobble Hill, suffered a broken collar bone, while the other occupants were bruised and shaken up. H. Mason also suffered a severe shaking up when he fell off a revolving see-saw at the beach. He was taken to hospital, but an examination showed no bones broken.

Iodoform is a chemical compound of carbon, hydrogen and iodine, analogous to chloroform.

SHAWNIGAN LIBERALS HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, Aug. 14.—About 200 guests assembled at Sandy Point, on Sunday, for a basket picnic sponsored by the Shawnigan Lake Liberal Association. The weather was ideal, and bathing and field sports were the order of the day for young and old. A contest, with many useful prizes, was popular with all.

Alan Chambers, Liberal nominee for the Federal House, from Nanaimo riding, was present, and spoke briefly.
